

FROM AN ARTICLE BY WILLIAM HARD IN "THE WORLD TODAY" MAGAZINE.

"I have given you these obser-

"What puzzled me at that time was that while the big companies were so powerful in politics the rest of us were so indifferent. Yet we did not give an average of ten hours a year to our city affairs. In fact if we spent thirty minutes voting in the spring and thirty minutes in the fall we were doing well."

"When I moved to a large city I added one more stage to my progress toward Socialism. I noticed that not only did business control politics but that 'business' did not want good politics. My first ap-

Is Bigger than the People!
 "If you think that I am running away from facts to theories just reverse in memory the fight made in this city for an honest council. How many of the biggest capitalists, how many directors of the traction companies, how many leading merchants rendered any assistance in that fight?"

A Crooked Corporation Offer.
 "The way I was forced out of office was significant. I had voted for an ordinance under which a certain street car company would be obliged to sprinkle the streets on which its tracks were laid. There was a strong movement for repealing this ordinance. One day a young lawyer for the street car company came into my office and said that if I would give him the names of too laborers among my constituents he would see that they were put to work on some new construction."

Demand
This Label
On all Packages
Of Beer, Ale or

"The community is swallowing business. In scores of child labor laws it has snatched from business the right of deciding at what age a child shall work for how many hours it shall be permitted to inhabit a factory each day. In scores of pure food laws it has established standards of food composition to which business must conform. In several laws of interstate application it has fixed the number of hours each day during which business may compel miners and smelter men to labor. In a recent great federal law it has subjected a cer-his "Looking Backward" and presenting his riper knowledge of the principles of Socialism. Is in the form of a story and very readable. Cloth, 142 pages, $1.25. Paper 50 cts.

Continued on page 4.

Continued on page 4

344 Sixth Street: Milwaukee.

... makes monopoly a necessary condition. The trust and the monopoly we have here, whether we wish it or not. The only question is whether they shall be public or private monopolies. Private monopoly is a curse to the nation. Thus we see the coal trust est protection of life and limb in workshops, factories, mines, stores, railways and boats. Also the removal of the principle of contributory negligence from our statutes, and the enactment of laws to compensate workmen when injured while em-

PENINSULAR
HEATERS and RANGES
FULL ASSORTMENT

E. H. HEISMANN, 449 National Ave.
Telephone South 2872

To bring about the nationaliza-

NEW ZEALAND'S

this state, regardless of race, nationality or religion, to join the Social-Democratic party, vote its ticket, build up its organization, and stand shoulder to shoulder for a better

A THOUSAND QUE
class carefully stated and d
This book will make you and how to work with these Questions of the greatest importance to the working masses.

E. H. HEISMANN, 449 National Ave.
Telephone South 2872

ALWAYS PURE.
HAVE A CIGARETTE

SOCIAL - DEMOCRATIC HERALD

Any of these books mailed promptly on receipt of price. What to Read on Socialism, a 64-page book which is a most valuable work.

SOCIAL DEMOC

RATIC HERALD.

Public Better than Capitalist Ownership.

THE STORY OF THE CANADIAN COAL FIELDS, WHERE LABOR DOES NOT DECAY. THE NEXT STEP WILL BE TO GIVE THE PEOPLE THEIR COAL AT LABOR COST.

For an out and out insult to capitalism commend us to the Canadian government publicly owned coal fields at the Rocky Mountain National Park of Canada, which is a national reservation twice as large as our own Yellowstone Park, and much more sought after by tourists. Hard coal has been found in the mountains in the park in almost unlimited quantities, rivaling, it is said, the anthracite deposit of Pennsylvania, and the government has caused a model mining camp to develop there, with miners' homes lighted by electricity and the great and beautiful park for the miners' children to run and grow up healthy in. Compared to the conditions there, the Pennsylvania coal fields with its hovels, pluck-me stores, mounted Cossacks maintained by the local governments and damnable treatment of the miners, their wives and their hapless children, presents one of the foulest ulcers with which capitalism has blotted this globe. The story of the Canadian mining community is worth giving in these columns.

The Gilbert Commercial College leads in the high quality of its work, its careful attention to individual needs and its assistance rendered in securing positions. Students enter at any time.

A. L. GILBERT, Principal

Broadway and Mason St. - Milwaukee

EDISON PHONOGRAPHS

$1.00 a Week

Geo. H. Eichholz

1340-1342 Fond du Lac Avenue

MILWAUKEE

ACORN BASE BURNER

STANDARD OF AMERICA FOR 70 YEARS

The fine construction of the Royal Acorn is the two-flue system which has been used for so many years with such excellent result. No coal is wasted in the fire-pot, no heat is wasted in the flues.

Through perfect fitting of all doors and dampers the fire is under perfect control. There is no more frequent cause of unsteady heat, unreliable fire and waste of fuel than the slip-shod fitting of ordinary Base Burners.

The ACORN Rule is they must be tight, large hot air flues to carry the air through the stove, causing a thorough circulation and a quick even heat throughout the room.

People of taste admire in this stove, its beauty of form, its perfect symmetry, and the exquisite finish, that makes it suitable for a home of neatness and refinement. It is elegant—not gaudy—and radiates brightness and cheer as well as heat.

Reinhold Brothers

LISBON AVENUE AND 23rd STREET, Milwaukee.

like the more pretentious dwellings in such a village. The requirement is that each man in them, and they are for single men entirely, must have a separate room. They have their plots of ground, too. Every house has running water, bath rooms, sanitary plumbing and electric lighting. All these buildings, and those occupied by the company for office purposes must follow an approved type of architecture. The government sees to that and passes on the plans. The rent charged the miners is placed at a nominal figure, and the price of board is regulated. The free ground about the village must be kept sodded and have a good appearance. The general appearance of Bankhead is as far from the usual type of mining town as it is possible to imagine.

Miners are paid by the piece and the average is about $5 a day. Each miner has three helpers who receive $3 a day. The company pays an annual ground rent of 30 cents an acre on the whole concession and a royalty of 10 cents a ton on all coal mined. The revenue derived from this source last year was $15,000, which exceeded the fixed expenses of maintaining the whole park.

The peculiar conditions which govern mining at Bankhead make it possible for the company with the concession to take a comfortable profit in spite of the burden carried. Indeed it has been found possible to offer coal in Seattle, after paying the American tariff on it, at a lower price than the Pittsburgh people can meet with their anthracite, after paying the freight on it to the Pacific coast. For mining at Bankhead is conducted not by shafts driven into the ground, but by horizontal borings straight into the side of the mountain. The tunnel or bore is given a slight up grade as it is pushed into the coal. It is easy to push the empty cars to the loading point and, once loaded, gravity and a light push takes them to the tipples without any power.

A Socialist, will, of course, see much to still criticize about the arrangement the Canadian government has made, but however so, the fact remains that the Canadian coal field presents another object lesson as to the beneficent workings of the collective principle as against the individualist, exploit-the-earth-for-private-enrichment principle.

Every bit as favorable human conditions might have been enjoyed today in the Pennsylvania coal fields if the meddlesome Roosevelt had not butted in to save the big coal fields to the rich robber owners of that bounty of nature. The public temper was warning up to the idea that it was time to quit fooling and get the coal beds into the possession of the entire people, and something in this direction, if even only a beginning, would have resulted but for Teddy's fine work at a critical moment of the great strike there.

And the result is that today the miners are worse wretches than ever, are hedged in and kept docile by a mounted constabulary, and the people of this nation are still paying the rubber prices for coal that was put upon them in order that the barons might get back their losses occasioned by the big strike. But then, we Yankees are so much smarter than the rest of the earth! Nobody can get ahead of us, no since-bob!

will deal with the laboring men only as individuals.

"D. M. Parry, leader of this movement of employers is certainly doing good work. He is doing more than any one may bring about the organization of the laboring man through revolutionary reaction. Organized capital and organized labor are both here to stay."

"The interests of capitalists and laborers can never be identical. The class war must go on until the property that now constitutes capital is owned and managed by the workers in the interest of society at large. When that time comes there will be no quarrel between capital and labor. Every improvement then will lighten the burden of the toilers, and increase the capacity to enjoy life for every member of society."

The Advance of Humanity.

The Nation's Edward Everett Hale calls for laws forbidding labor of any kind for children under sixteen years of age. To something

Private Ownership.

The Public: James J. Hill has bargained to sell a large collection of ore deposits for $400,000,000—the equivalent of the labor of 80 million men for a day, of a quarter of a million for a year, of ten regiments for 20 years, and of one man for seven times the historical period of the world, at the liberal average wages of five dollars a day. When did God give to James J. Hill those ore deposits and consequently the control over all that labor of mankind?

A Professor Speaks Out!

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 28.—Prof. Chas. L. Zeublin of Chicago university paid his respects to D. M. Parry of Indianapolis during the course of his address before the Richmond Chautauqua on the subject of wealth. He said:

"The great world of industry now comes forward with an employers' association. This great organization stands up and has the audacity to proclaim that this body like the more pretentious dwellings in such a village. The requirement is that each man in them, and they are for single men entirely, must have a separate room. They have their plots of ground, too. Every house has running water, bath rooms, sanitary plumbing and electric lighting. All these buildings, and those occupied by the company for office purposes must follow an approved type of architecture. The government sees to that and passes on the plans. The rent charged the miners is placed at a nominal figure, and the price of board is regulated. The free ground about the village must be kept sodded and have a good appearance. The general appearance of Bankhead is as far from the usual type of mining town as it is possible to imagine.

Miners are paid by the piece and the average is about $5 a day. Each miner has three helpers who receive $3 a day. The company pays an annual ground rent of 30 cents an acre on the whole concession and a royalty of 10 cents a ton on all coal mined. The revenue derived from this source last year was $15,000, which exceeded the fixed expenses of maintaining the whole park.

The peculiar conditions which govern mining at Bankhead make it possible for the company with the concession to take a comfortable profit in spite of the burden carried. Indeed it has been found possible to offer coal in Seattle, after paying the American tariff on it, at a lower price than the Pittsburgh people can meet with their anthracite, after paying the freight on it to the Pacific coast. For mining at Bankhead is conducted not by shafts driven into the ground, but by horizontal borings straight into the side of the mountain. The tunnel or bore is given a slight up grade as it is pushed into the coal. It is easy to push the empty cars to the loading point and, once loaded, gravity and a light push takes them to the tipples without any power.

A Socialist, will, of course, see much to still criticize about the arrangement the Canadian government has made, but however so, the fact remains that the Canadian coal field presents another object lesson as to the beneficent workings of the collective principle as against the individualist, exploit-the-earth-for-private-enrichment principle.

Every bit as favorable human conditions might have been enjoyed today in the Pennsylvania coal fields if the meddlesome Roosevelt had not butted in to save the big coal fields to the rich robber owners of that bounty of nature. The public temper was warning up to the idea that it was time to quit fooling and get the coal beds into the possession of the entire people, and something in this direction, if even only a beginning, would have resulted but for Teddy's fine work at a critical moment of the great strike there.

And the result is that today the miners are worse wretches than ever, are hedged in and kept docile by a mounted constabulary, and the people of this nation are still paying the rubber prices for coal that was put upon them in order that the barons might get back their losses occasioned by the big strike. But then, we Yankees are so much smarter than the rest of the earth! Nobody can get ahead of us, no since-bob!

will deal with the laboring men only as individuals.

"D. M. Parry, leader of this movement of employers is certainly doing good work. He is doing more than any one may bring about the organization of the laboring man through revolutionary reaction. Organized capital and organized labor are both here to stay."

"The interests of capitalists and laborers can never be identical. The class war must go on until the property that now constitutes capital is owned and managed by the workers in the interest of society at large. When that time comes there will be no quarrel between capital and labor. Every improvement then will lighten the burden of the toilers, and increase the capacity to enjoy life for every member of society."

The Advance of Humanity.

The Nation's Edward Everett Hale calls for laws forbidding labor of any kind for children under sixteen years of age. To something

Private Ownership.

The Public: James J. Hill has bargained to sell a large collection of ore deposits for $400,000,000—the equivalent of the labor of 80 million men for a day, of a quarter of a million for a year, of ten regiments for 20 years, and of one man for seven times the historical period of the world, at the liberal average wages of five dollars a day. When did God give to James J. Hill those ore deposits and consequently the control over all that labor of mankind?

A Professor Speaks Out!

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 28.—Prof. Chas. L. Zeublin of Chicago university paid his respects to D. M. Parry of Indianapolis during the course of his address before the Richmond Chautauqua on the subject of wealth. He said:

"The great world of industry now comes forward with an employers' association. This great organization stands up and has the audacity to proclaim that this body like the more pretentious dwellings in such a village. The requirement is that each man in them, and they are for single men entirely, must have a separate room. They have their plots of ground, too. Every house has running water, bath rooms, sanitary plumbing and electric lighting. All these buildings, and those occupied by the company for office purposes must follow an approved type of architecture. The government sees to that and passes on the plans. The rent charged the miners is placed at a nominal figure, and the price of board is regulated. The free ground about the village must be kept sodded and have a good appearance. The general appearance of Bankhead is as far from the usual type of mining town as it is possible to imagine.

Miners are paid by the piece and the average is about $5 a day. Each miner has three helpers who receive $3 a day. The company pays an annual ground rent of 30 cents an acre on the whole concession and a royalty of 10 cents a ton on all coal mined. The revenue derived from this source last year was $15,000, which exceeded the fixed expenses of maintaining the whole park.

The peculiar conditions which govern mining at Bankhead make it possible for the company with the concession to take a comfortable profit in spite of the burden carried. Indeed it has been found possible to offer coal in Seattle, after paying the American tariff on it, at a lower price than the Pittsburgh people can meet with their anthracite, after paying the freight on it to the Pacific coast. For mining at Bankhead is conducted not by shafts driven into the ground, but by horizontal borings straight into the side of the mountain. The tunnel or bore is given a slight up grade as it is pushed into the coal. It is easy to push the empty cars to the loading point and, once loaded, gravity and a light push takes them to the tipples without any power.

A Socialist, will, of course, see much to still criticize about the arrangement the Canadian government has made, but however so, the fact remains that the Canadian coal field presents another object lesson as to the beneficent workings of the collective principle as against the individualist, exploit-the-earth-for-private-enrichment principle.

Every bit as favorable human conditions might have been enjoyed today in the Pennsylvania coal fields if the meddlesome Roosevelt had not butted in to save the big coal fields to the rich robber owners of that bounty of nature. The public temper was warning up to the idea that it was time to quit fooling and get the coal beds into the possession of the entire people, and something in this direction, if even only a beginning, would have resulted but for Teddy's fine work at a critical moment of the great strike there.

And the result is that today the miners are worse wretches than ever, are hedged in and kept docile by a mounted constabulary, and the people of this nation are still paying the rubber prices for coal that was put upon them in order that the barons might get back their losses occasioned by the big strike. But then, we Yankees are so much smarter than the rest of the earth! Nobody can get ahead of us, no since-bob!

will deal with the laboring men only as individuals.

"D. M. Parry, leader of this movement of employers is certainly doing good work. He is doing more than any one may bring about the organization of the laboring man through revolutionary reaction. Organized capital and organized labor are both here to stay."

"The interests of capitalists and laborers can never be identical. The class war must go on until the property that now constitutes capital is owned and managed by the workers in the interest of society at large. When that time comes there will be no quarrel between capital and labor. Every improvement then will lighten the burden of the toilers, and increase the capacity to enjoy life for every member of society."

The Advance of Humanity.

The Nation's Edward Everett Hale calls for laws forbidding labor of any kind for children under sixteen years of age. To something

Private Ownership.

The Public: James J. Hill has bargained to sell a large collection of ore deposits for $400,000,000—the equivalent of the labor of 80 million men for a day, of a quarter of a million for a year, of ten regiments for 20 years, and of one man for seven times the historical period of the world, at the liberal average wages of five dollars a day. When did God give to James J. Hill those ore deposits and consequently the control over all that labor of mankind?

A Professor Speaks Out!

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 28.—Prof. Chas. L. Zeublin of Chicago university paid his respects to D. M. Parry of Indianapolis during the course of his address before the Richmond Chautauqua on the subject of wealth. He said:

"The great world of industry now comes forward with an employers' association. This great organization stands up and has the audacity to proclaim that this body like the more pretentious dwellings in such a village. The requirement is that each man in them, and they are for single men entirely, must have a separate room. They have their plots of ground, too. Every house has running water, bath rooms, sanitary plumbing and electric lighting. All these buildings, and those occupied by the company for office purposes must follow an approved type of architecture. The government sees to that and passes on the plans. The rent charged the miners is placed at a nominal figure, and the price of board is regulated. The free ground about the village must be kept sodded and have a good appearance. The general appearance of Bankhead is as far from the usual type of mining town as it is possible to imagine.

Miners are paid by the piece and the average is about $5 a day. Each miner has three helpers who receive $3 a day. The company pays an annual ground rent of 30 cents an acre on the whole concession and a royalty of 10 cents a ton on all coal mined. The revenue derived from this source last year was $15,000, which exceeded the fixed expenses of maintaining the whole park.

The peculiar conditions which govern mining at Bankhead make it possible for the company with the concession to take a comfortable profit in spite of the burden carried. Indeed it has been found possible to offer coal in Seattle, after paying the American tariff on it, at a lower price than the Pittsburgh people can meet with their anthracite, after paying the freight on it to the Pacific coast. For mining at Bankhead is conducted not by shafts driven into the ground, but by horizontal borings straight into the side of the mountain. The tunnel or bore is given a slight up grade as it is pushed into the coal. It is easy to push the empty cars to the loading point and, once loaded, gravity and a light push takes them to the tipples without any power.

A Socialist, will, of course, see much to still criticize about the arrangement the Canadian government has made, but however so, the fact remains that the Canadian coal field presents another object lesson as to the beneficent workings of the collective principle as against the individualist, exploit-the-earth-for-private-enrichment principle.

Every bit as favorable human conditions might have been enjoyed today in the Pennsylvania coal fields if the meddlesome Roosevelt had not butted in to save the big coal fields to the rich robber owners of that bounty of nature. The public temper was warning up to the idea that it was time to quit fooling and get the coal beds into the possession of the entire people, and something in this direction, if even only a beginning, would have resulted but for Teddy's fine work at a critical moment of the great strike there.

And the result is that today the miners are worse wretches than ever, are hedged in and kept docile by a mounted constabulary, and the people of this nation are still paying the rubber prices for coal that was put upon them in order that the barons might get back their losses occasioned by the big strike. But then, we Yankees are so much smarter than the rest of the earth! Nobody can get ahead of us, no since-bob!

will deal with the laboring men only as individuals.

"D. M. Parry, leader of this movement of employers is certainly doing good work. He is doing more than any one may bring about the organization of the laboring man through revolutionary reaction. Organized capital and organized labor are both here to stay."

"The interests of capitalists and laborers can never be identical. The class war must go on until the property that now constitutes capital is owned and managed by the workers in the interest of society at large. When that time comes there will be no quarrel between capital and labor. Every improvement then will lighten the burden of the toilers, and increase the capacity to enjoy life for every member of society."

The Advance of Humanity.

The Nation's Edward Everett Hale calls for laws forbidding labor of any kind for children under sixteen years of age. To something

Private Ownership.

The Public: James J. Hill has bargained to sell a large collection of ore deposits for $400,000,000—the equivalent of the labor of 80 million men for a day, of a quarter of a million for a year, of ten regiments for 20 years, and of one man for seven times the historical period of the world, at the liberal average wages of five dollars a day. When did God give to James J. Hill those ore deposits and consequently the control over all that labor of mankind?

A Professor Speaks Out!

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 28.—Prof. Chas. L. Zeublin of Chicago university paid his respects to D. M. Parry of Indianapolis during the course of his address before the Richmond Chautauqua on the subject of wealth. He said:

"The great world of industry now comes forward with an employers' association. This great organization stands up and has the audacity to proclaim that this body like the more pretentious dwellings in such a village. The requirement is that each man in them, and they are for single men entirely, must have a separate room. They have their plots of ground, too. Every house has running water, bath rooms, sanitary plumbing and electric lighting. All these buildings, and those occupied by the company for office purposes must follow an approved type of architecture. The government sees to that and passes on the plans. The rent charged the miners is placed at a nominal figure, and the price of board is regulated. The free ground about the village must be kept sodded and have a good appearance. The general appearance of Bankhead is as far from the usual type of mining town as it is possible to imagine.

Miners are paid by the piece and the average is about $5 a day. Each miner has three helpers who receive $3 a day. The company pays an annual ground rent of 30 cents an acre on the whole concession and a royalty of 10 cents a ton on all coal mined. The revenue derived from this source last year was $15,000, which exceeded the fixed expenses of maintaining the whole park.

The peculiar conditions which govern mining at Bankhead make it possible for the company with the concession to take a comfortable profit in spite of the burden carried. Indeed it has been found possible to offer coal in Seattle, after paying the American tariff on it, at a lower price than the Pittsburgh people can meet with their anthracite, after paying the freight on it to the Pacific coast. For mining at Bankhead is conducted not by shafts driven into the ground, but by horizontal borings straight into the side of the mountain. The tunnel or bore is given a slight up grade as it is pushed into the coal. It is easy to push the empty cars to the loading point and, once loaded, gravity and a light push takes them to the tipples without any power.

A Socialist, will, of course, see much to still criticize about the arrangement the Canadian government has made, but however so, the fact remains that the Canadian coal field presents another object lesson as to the beneficent workings of the collective principle as against the individualist, exploit-the-earth-for-private-enrichment principle.

Every bit as favorable human conditions might have been enjoyed today in the Pennsylvania coal fields if the meddlesome Roosevelt had not butted in to save the big coal fields to the rich robber owners of that bounty of nature. The public temper was warning up to the idea that it was time to quit fooling and get the coal beds into the possession of the entire people, and something in this direction, if even only a beginning, would have resulted but for Teddy's fine work at a critical moment of the great strike there.

And the result is that today the miners are worse wretches than ever, are hedged in and kept docile by a mounted constabulary, and the people of this nation are still paying the rubber prices for coal that was put upon them in order that the barons might get back their losses occasioned by the big strike. But then, we Yankees are so much smarter than the rest of the earth! Nobody can get ahead of us, no since-bob!

will deal with the laboring men only as individuals.

"D. M. Parry, leader of this movement of employers is certainly doing good work. He is doing more than any one may bring about the organization of the laboring man through revolutionary reaction. Organized capital and organized labor are both here to stay."

"The interests of capitalists and laborers can never be identical. The class war must go on until the property that now constitutes capital is owned and managed by the workers in the interest of society at large. When that time comes there will be no quarrel between capital and labor. Every improvement then will lighten the burden of the toilers, and increase the capacity to enjoy life for every member of society."

The Advance of Humanity.

The Nation's Edward Everett Hale calls for laws forbidding labor of any kind for children under sixteen years of age. To something

Private Ownership.

The Public: James J. Hill has bargained to sell a large collection of ore deposits for $400,000,000—the equivalent of the labor of 80 million men for a day, of a quarter of a million for a year, of ten regiments for 20 years, and of one man for seven times the historical period of the world, at the liberal average wages of five dollars a day. When did God give to James J. Hill those ore deposits and consequently the control over all that labor of mankind?

A Professor Speaks Out!

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 28.—Prof. Chas. L. Zeublin of Chicago university paid his respects to D. M. Parry of Indianapolis during the course of his address before the Richmond Chautauqua on the subject of wealth. He said:

"The great world of industry now comes forward with an employers' association. This great organization stands up and has the audacity to proclaim that this body like the more pretentious dwellings in such a village. The requirement is that each man in them, and they are for single men entirely, must have a separate room. They have their plots of ground, too. Every house has running water, bath rooms, sanitary plumbing and electric lighting. All these buildings, and those occupied by the company for office purposes must follow an approved type of architecture. The government sees to that and passes on the plans. The rent charged the miners is placed at a nominal figure, and the price of board is regulated. The free ground about the village must be kept sodded and have a good appearance. The general appearance of Bankhead is as far from the usual type of mining town as it is possible to imagine.

Miners are paid by the piece and the average is about $5 a day. Each miner has three helpers who receive $3 a day. The company pays an annual ground rent of 30 cents an acre on the whole concession and a royalty of 10 cents a ton on all coal mined. The revenue derived from this source last year was $15,000, which exceeded the fixed expenses of maintaining the whole park.

The peculiar conditions which govern mining at Bankhead make it possible for the company with the concession to take a comfortable profit in spite of the burden carried. Indeed it has been found possible to offer coal in Seattle, after paying the American tariff on it, at a lower price than the Pittsburgh people can meet with their anthracite, after paying the freight on it to the Pacific coast. For mining at Bankhead is conducted not by shafts driven into the ground, but by horizontal borings straight into the side of the mountain. The tunnel or bore is given a slight up grade as it is pushed into the coal. It is easy to push the empty cars to the loading point and, once loaded, gravity and a light push takes them to the tipples without any power.

A Socialist, will, of course, see much to still criticize about the arrangement the Canadian government has made, but however so, the fact remains that the Canadian coal field presents another object lesson as to the beneficent workings of the collective principle as against the individualist, exploit-the-earth-for-private-enrichment principle.

Every bit as favorable human conditions might have been enjoyed today in the Pennsylvania coal fields if the meddlesome Roosevelt had not butted in to save the big coal fields to the rich robber owners of that bounty of nature. The public temper was warning up to the idea that it was time to quit fooling and get the coal beds into the possession of the entire people, and something in this direction, if even only a beginning, would have resulted but for Teddy's fine work at a critical moment of the great strike there.

And the result is that today the miners are worse wretches than ever, are hedged in and kept docile by a mounted constabulary, and the people of this nation are still paying the rubber prices for coal that was put upon them in order that the barons might get back their losses occasioned by the big strike. But then, we Yankees are so much smarter than the rest of the earth! Nobody can get ahead of us, no since-bob!

will deal with the laboring men only as individuals.

"D. M. Parry, leader of this movement of employers is certainly doing good work. He is doing more than any one may bring about the organization of the laboring man through revolutionary reaction. Organized capital and organized labor are both here to stay."

"The interests of capitalists and laborers can never be identical. The class war must go on until the property that now constitutes capital is owned and managed by the workers in the interest of society at large. When that time comes there will be no quarrel between capital and labor. Every improvement then will lighten the burden of the toilers, and increase the capacity to enjoy life for every member of society."

The Advance of Humanity.

The Nation's Edward Everett Hale calls for laws forbidding labor of any kind for children under sixteen years of age. To something

Private Ownership.

The Public: James J. Hill has bargained to sell a large collection of ore deposits for $400,000,000—the equivalent of the labor of 80 million men for a day, of a quarter of a million for a year, of ten regiments for 20 years, and of one man for seven times the historical period of the world, at the liberal average wages of five dollars a day. When did God give to James J. Hill those ore deposits and consequently the control over all that labor of mankind?

A Professor Speaks Out!

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 28.—Prof. Chas. L. Zeublin of Chicago university paid his respects to D. M. Parry of Indianapolis during the course of his address before the Richmond Chautauqua on the subject of wealth. He said:

"The great world of industry now comes forward with an employers' association. This great organization stands up and has the audacity to proclaim that this body like the more pretentious dwellings in such a village. The requirement is that each man in them, and they are for single men entirely, must have a separate room. They have their plots of ground, too. Every house has running water, bath rooms, sanitary plumbing and electric lighting. All these buildings, and those occupied by the company for office purposes must follow an approved type of architecture. The government sees to that and passes on the plans. The rent charged the miners is placed at a nominal figure, and the price of board is regulated. The free ground about the village must be kept sodded and have a good appearance. The general appearance of Bankhead is as far from the usual type of mining town as it is possible to imagine.

Miners are paid by the piece and the average is about $5 a day. Each miner has three helpers who receive $3 a day. The company pays an annual ground rent of 30 cents an acre on the whole concession and a royalty of 10 cents a ton on all coal mined. The revenue derived from this source last year was $15,000, which exceeded the fixed expenses of maintaining the whole park.

The peculiar conditions which govern mining at Bankhead make it possible for the company with the concession to take a comfortable profit in spite of the burden carried. Indeed it has been found possible to offer coal in Seattle, after paying the American tariff on it, at a lower price than the Pittsburgh people can meet with their anthracite, after paying the freight on it to the Pacific coast. For mining at Bankhead is conducted not by shafts driven into the ground, but by horizontal borings straight into the side of the mountain. The tunnel or bore is given a slight up grade as it is pushed into the coal. It is easy to push the empty cars to the loading point and, once loaded, gravity and a light push takes them to the tipples without any power.

A Socialist, will, of course, see much to still criticize about the arrangement the Canadian government has made, but however so, the fact remains that the Canadian coal field presents another object lesson as to the beneficent workings of the collective principle as against the individualist, exploit-the-earth-for-private-enrichment principle.

Every bit as favorable human conditions might have been enjoyed today in the Pennsylvania coal fields if the meddlesome Roosevelt had not butted in to save the big coal fields to the rich robber owners of that bounty of nature. The public temper was warning up to the idea that it was time to quit fooling and get the coal beds into the possession of the entire people, and something in this direction, if even only a beginning, would have resulted but for Teddy's fine work at a critical moment of the great strike there.

And the result is that today the miners are worse wretches than ever, are hedged in and kept docile by a mounted constabulary, and the people of this nation are still paying the rubber prices for coal that was put upon them in order that the barons might get back their losses occasioned by the big strike. But then, we Yankees are so much smarter than the rest of the earth! Nobody can get ahead of us, no since-bob!

will deal with the laboring men only as individuals.

"D. M. Parry, leader of this movement of employers is certainly doing good work. He is doing more than any one may bring about the organization of the laboring man through revolutionary reaction. Organized capital and organized labor are both here to stay."

"The interests of capitalists and laborers

Social-Democratic Herald

Published every Saturday by the Milwaukee Social-Democratic Publishing Co.

Board of Directors—E. H. Thomas, Victor L. Berger, J. Russell, Emil Seidel, C. P. Dietz, Fred. Brochhausen, Sr., Wm. Arnold, H. W. Bistortius, Chas. V. Schmidt.

Official Paper of the Federated Trades Council of Milwaukee and of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor.

The Herald is not responsible for the opinions of its contributors.

Entered at Milwaukee Post-office as Second-class Matter, Aug. 20, 1901.

FREDERIC HEATH, Editor. VICTOR L. BERGER, Associate.

FOR OUR NEW READERS:

THIS COUNTRY is largely made up of working people, both industrial and agricultural, but it is ruled by the capitalist class, which is numerically a very small fraction of the population. Being in control, that class runs the government in its own interests and against the interests of the rest of the people who are the overwhelming majority.

We Socialists believe that the country should be managed in the interests and for the well-being of those who produce the wealth. That is what government is for in the first place. The means of existence are now privately owned by capitalists who comprise only twelve per cent. of the population. By means of this private ownership a mere ONE PER CENT. of the people OWN OVER HALF OF THE WEALTH OF THE NATION, and the concentration is going on at a pell-mell speed.

The means of production should be owned by the collectivity in order that the fruits of industry should go to the MANY, instead of to the FEW.

Under the present capitalist system, the majority of mankind must sell their labor power to the capitalist owners of the means of production and distribution in order to live—and to live very miserably at that.

The people own the post office and everybody is glad of the fact. The people ought to also own all the trusts so that all may enjoy the benefits. They ought to own every industry as soon as it has become sufficiently concentrated and organized to permit of such common ownership.

To bring this about, the people—that is, the workers, not the shirkers—must have possession of the political power. The Social-Democratic party (known as the Socialist party in some states, and nationally) is organized to bring this about—this and the abolition of capitalism. We insist that the industrial class shall be the wealthy class, and the idle class the poor and dependent class—although Social-Democracy will in time abolish all poverty and eliminate the drones.

The Social-Democratic movement is international, but will doubtless achieve success in the United States first, because the capitalist system is farthest developed here and is preparing the ground for the higher system of society.

To show you that your interests lie with us we give herewith the following:

Program of International Social-Democracy:

1. Collective ownership of all industries in the hands of trusts and combines, and of all public utilities.
2. Democratic management of such collective industries and utilities.
3. Reduction of the hours of labor and progressively increased remuneration.
4. State and national insurance for the workers and honorable rest in old age.
5. The inauguration of public industries to safeguard the workers against lack of employment.
6. Education of ALL children up to the age of eighteen years. No child labor.
7. Equal political and civil rights for men and women.

IF YOU BELIEVE IN THE ABOVE, VOTE WITH THE SOCIAL-DEMOCRATS.

SOCIAL-DEMOCRATIC VOTE IN THE UNITED STATES:

1888	2,000
1889	36,000
1900	124,000
1904	408,000

SOCIAL-DEMOCRATIC VOTE OF THE WORLD:

1867	30,000
1877	494,000
1887	931,000
1893	2,385,000
1898	4,515,000
1903	6,285,000
1905 (estimated)	7,000,000

EDITORIAL ETCHINGS.

America will probably never hear the last of its coarse treatment of the novelist Gorky, nor will the literary and cultured circles of the globe cease to point it out as one of the clearest examples of insincere, hypocritical morality that has thus far been exhibited. That New York, whose hotels are reeking and gilded haunts of unbridled vice, that New York that could honor and abase itself before such men as the merchant prince Marshall Field with his train of concubines, should not only point the finger of shame at the well-meaning Gorky, but should load him down under its brutal pretensions to superior goodness, is a thing not likely to be forgotten.

H. G. Wells, the famous English novelist, has just been writing of the Gorky case. From his article we take the following:

"Save for a few common greetings he has no other language than Russian. So it was necessary that he should bring with him some one he could trust to interpret him to the world. And having, too, much of the practical helplessness of his type of genius, he could not come without his right hand, that brave and honorable lady, Mme. Andreieva, who has been now for years in everything but the severest legal sense his wife.

"Russia has no Dakota, and although his legal wife has long since found another companion, the orthodox church in Russia has no divorce facilities for men in the revolutionary camp. So Mme. Andreieva stands to him as George Eliot stood to George Lewes; and I suppose the two of them had almost forgotten the technical illegality of their tie until it burst upon them and the American public in a monstrous storm of exposure.

"It was like a summer thunder storm. At one moment Gorky was in the immense sunshine, a plenipotentiary from oppression to liberty; at the next he was being almost literally pelted through the streets.

"I do not know what motive actuated a certain section of the American press to initiate this pelting of Maxim Gorky. A passion for moral purity may perhaps have prompted it, but certainly no passion for purity ever before begot so brazen and abundant a torrent of lies.

"The irregularity of Mme. Andreieva's position was a mere point of departure. The journalists went on to invent a deserted wife and children; they declared Mme. Andreieva was an actress, and loaded her with all the unpleasant implications of that unfortunate word; they spoke of her generally as 'the woman Andreieva'; they called upon the commissioner of immigration to deport her as a 'female of bad character'—quite influential people wrote to him to that effect; they published the name of her hotel and organized a boycott. Whoever dared to countenance the victims was denounced.

"And amid this riot of personalities Russia was forgotten. The massacres, the chaos of cruelty and plundering, the tyranny, the women outraged, the children tortured and slain—that was forgotten.

"In Boston, in Chicago, it was the same. At the bare suggestion of Gorky's coming the same outbreak occurred. The same display of imbecile gross lying, the same absolute disregard of the tragic cause he had come to plead."

Now that the hypocritical storm has passed over, the American pharisees may pause and consider the case. And they may reflect on the admirable conduct of Gorky in the face of such a studied affront. And the remark of the Gorkys as they took the steamer the other day to leave our shores that they carried no ill will toward our people was generous and forgiving, and noble. Nevertheless the disappointment of the great writer that he had not been able to plead Russia's cause here as he had expected to, and that his great mission here had to that extent been a failure, must have been keen.

A WINNER—NOW READY! of "Socialism Made Plain." Single "Honest Answers to Honest Questions," 5 cts.; 25 for a dollar! These "Honest Answers to Honest Questions," by Allan L. Benson, author of "The Socialists."

WATCH REPAIRING GOOD AND RELIABLE WORK ONLY AT STRICTLY HONEST PRICES
We Understand French, German and English Watches
THEO. SCHELLE, 316 West Water Street, MILWAUKEE

Gems for the Socialist Scrap-Book.

LXX. THE MODERN SKELETON—Charlotte Perkins Gilman.

As kings of old in royal feasts,
Among the piled up roses and the wine,
Wild music and soft-footed dancing girls,
The pearls and gold and barbarous luxury,
Used to show also a white skeleton,
To make life meeker in the sight of death,

To make joy sweeter by the thought thereof,
So our new kings, in their high banqueting,
With the electric lustre unforeseen,
And unimagined costliness of flowers,
Rich wines of peace and food as rare as gems,
And all the wondrous waste of artifice;

Midst high-bred elegance and jewelled ease,
And beauty of rich raiment; they should set,
High before all, a sickly, pauper child,
To keep the rich in mind of poverty,—
The sure concomitant of their estate.

Why the People of America Are Becoming Social-Democrats.

Continued from page 2.

tain great industry to a supervision so rigorous that every particle of edible flesh sold in this country may be said to be watched by federal, or else by state or municipal agents from the time when it grows on the steer to the time it is delivered to the housewife.

"I need not fatigue you with further illustrations. It is obvious that business, long the senior partner of the community, is being deposed to an occasionally subordinate position. But the process cannot stop at this point. While city governments, state governments and the national government are drawing closer and closer to an intimate control of business, it becomes more and more necessary for business to make a stronger and stronger effort to control each and all of those governments. In this state we have seen the factories which employ children reach out their hands to cripple the appropriations for the expenses of the office of the state factory inspector. The business man is being brought into a more active conflict with the community than ever before.

"I had a constituent, for instance, who was a candy manufacturer. Twenty years ago he simply subscribed to a campaign fund, and in return was not molested when he wished to monopolize the sidewalk with skids and trucks from his warehouse. Today observe the increase in his duties: There are factory inspectors to see. There are pure food inspectors to satisfy. There are city compensation agents to interview on the subject of sidewalk encroachments. There are federal district attorneys to evade in the matter of rebates from the railroad companies. Where my candy manufacturer's business came in contact with politics at one point it will now come in contact with it at ten.

The Struggle is Irrepressible.
"The struggle is inevitable, remorseless, foreordained. Business and the community approach each other more nearly every year. The line between industry and politics, between business and the community, is being gradually but surely eradicated. In place of a weak and contemptible community, the prey of a thousand piratical business enterprises, there is arising a community stronger and nobler than any business—than all business put together.

"But business cannot change its nature. It will still struggle for special privileges. It will still, and more than ever, attempt to dominate politics. Its private interests will still drive it to debauch public officials and to plunder the commonwealth. It has always done so in the past. It will always do so in the future. It will never be changed. It will be destroyed. Its head is already in the mouth of the community. The rest will follow.

Welfare of People Comes First.
"This is all there is of Socialism, to my mind. The welfare of private business and the welfare of the community are incompatible. Private business, by its nature, must seek private and special privileges. The community is being obliged in self protection to undertake the function of business on its account. And that is Socialism.

"If you don't believe what I have said, you needn't. It makes no difference. The worst that the anti-

Socialist parties can do is retard Socialism. The best that the Social-Democratic party can do is somewhat to accelerate it. But it will come anyway. It is my experience and observation of public affairs that has placed me where I am.

"I have seen the ownership of business, giving political power to those who enjoy it. I have seen society gradually closing its grasp on the ownership of business. I, or my children, will see that ownership transferred bodily to society. And with the ownership of business, which is the fundamental thing in life, there will come political interest and political power to the whole people."

Socialists in Action!

Milwaukee: The matter of most interest up at Monday's council meeting was the confirmation of "Bill" Hooker as tax commissioner to succeed W. G. Bruce. The appointment by the mayor was one of the delayed fruits of the spring election and an evidence that "reform" politics in the hands of a "boy reformer" is no very different thing than the old kind of politics that has blighted Milwaukee in the past. It was known, of course, that the Social-Democrats would not give such an appointment the endorsement of their votes, and this gave certain Democratic Catholic aldermen, such as Corcoran and Stiglauer, the chance to drive a bargain with Hooker to the effect that Himmelstein must be retained as his deputy or else his appointment would fail of confirmation. Under the rule of the council the appointment should go to a committee and then come up for action at a subsequent meeting, and the Socialists tried to hold the council to this rule. On motion of Corcoran, however, the rules were suspended and a vote taken. Ald. Seidel spoke for the twelve Social-Democratic aldermen when he said that he could not approve such an appointment. "Mr. Hooker has practiced one of the greatest deceptions upon the people of Milwaukee that has ever been known," he said in the course of his remarks, and considerable interest was aroused at what he referred. After the vote had been taken and the appointment confirmed by a vote of 32 capitalist party aldermen to 12 Social-Democrats, the newspaper reporters flocked over to Seidel's desk to find out what his allusion meant. "He imposed upon the citizens of Milwaukee by unloading upon them as mayor an incompetent, empty-headed youth," Seidel told them. In regard to the Hooker confirmation the city hall man of the Daily News says in his report:

"When Hooker made the deal with Corcoran everything was 'fixed.' Corcoran and Stiglauer knew that they could keep Hooker out of the tax commissioner's office indefinitely. Hooker and Becker knew this too. Becker was anxious to get rid of Hooker as private secretary so that he would be relieved of the extra tribute Hooker has been collecting from him for writing his speeches, interviews, etc. So the deal was made. The mayor appointed the tax commissioner and Corcoran and Stiglauer appointed the tax commissioner's deputy."

The newspapers expressed surprise that the measure of the Social-Democrats for a municipal dairy was not killed when it came up for action in the meeting. The fact that it wasn't killed shows that just before election the old party politicians fear the displeasure of the people. It was sent back to the committee for the necessary delay so that the attempted killing will not take place until after election.

An amusing incident of the meeting was Ald. Melms' recital of a rumor that the reason for Ald. Wittig (D) falling out with his ward employees was their neglect to buy shirts for him.

That the Socialist agitation among the people and the consequent wakening of the people to the fact that the public service corporations have them by the throat is making things come our way was again evident Monday when some of the capitalist party aldermen introduced measures of a radical nature in relation to these corporations.

The chief of police recommended the taking away of the license of Jahne's Cadillac "hotel" where little girls had been rescued by the probation officer, after the chief had fought to get the place a renewal of its license. The license was taken away.

GLEANINGS FROM BUSY FIELDS.

IN YANKEE LAND

The comrades of Texas have issued a warm letter to Senator Bailey and are putting it out in large lots.

After reading the editorial of the Railway Conductor on Joseph Medill Patterson's articles in the magazines we are reminded of that old saying about the uselessness of trying to explain a profound proposition to children or fools. Luckily Editor Kellogg's denseness is not typical of the working class in general, else it would never revolt at oppression or understand the economic reason for its exploitation.

President George B. Hugo, of the American Bottlers' Protective Association, in opening the convention at Atlanta, Ga., October 9, emphasized the necessity of united action on the part of the employers, for the destruction of trade unions, and said, "The logical sequence of labor unionism is Socialism, and Socialism as commonly understood means stagnation and commercial death to any country. Unionism, as at present conducted, must be destroyed."

A. M. Simons, in International Socialist Review: Just before the convention of the I. W. W. last June we published an article in the Review pointing out the character of the S. L. P.'s friendship for the I. W. W. and the results of any affiliation with a DeLeon ruled organization. Today every word of that article has been justified. The present convention has so far been a farce. A bunch of half-crazed fanatics, under the leadership of DeLeon, obstructed to such an extent that over a week was expended in passing upon credentials. "Severer the foul hand of S. L. P. has touched the I. W. W. the latter organization has withered up into a clique of fanatical freaks who work only with Samson's instruments of warfare, and from whom all bona fide leaders draw back in disgust.

The Dallas (Tex.) Morning News of recent date printed a long interview with Comrade J. Brockhausen, son of Assemblyman Brockhausen of Milwaukee, in which he told of the work of the Socialists the country over and of the work that had been done in behalf of the working people in Milwaukee and the things that would be done when the party secured full power. Whatever measures for the benefit of the people the Milwaukee Social-Democratic aldermen had not succeeded in enacting into law, he said, failed to pass because there were capitalist party aldermen, who owed their elections to misguided labor votes, there to kill them. He told of the hard fighting of the labor representatives in the Wisconsin legislature and of the dark tricks and the united efforts of the two capitalist party representatives, braced up by a good lot of capitalists' lobby, by which all measures for the benefit of the people were either killed or got through by the skin of their teeth. Every measure they put in had to run the gauntlet of the bank lords, the factory lords and the wealth lords, generally.

Dates for National Organizers.
MAY BEAL: Oct. 21, Enroute; 22, White Bluff, Tenn.; 23, Jackson; 24-25, Huntington; 26-27, Jackson.
GEORGE E. L. GILLOW: Oct. 21, Findlay, Ohio; 22-24, Postoria; 25, Mansfield; 26, Crestline; 27, Springfield.
J. M. CALDWELL: Pennsylvania.
E. E. CARR: Iowa.
ISAAC COWEN: Oct. 21-22, Fargo, N. D.; 23, Moorhead, Minn.; 24, Grand Forks, N. D.

ACROSS THE POND
The Norwegian elections just closed have resulted in a great gain in the Socialist representatives in the Norwegian Parliament. Our party elected four members three years ago. We have elected twelve to the new Parliament. Thus the movement grows the world over.

London, Oct. 3.—The drift of trade unionism toward Socialism was illustrated by the vote at Cardiff yesterday, when the delegates to the conference of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants showed themselves in favor of all the candidates supported by the society accepting the conditions of the Independent Labor party in the House of Commons. This trend of the trade unionists has become the gravest aspect of the rise of radicalism in Great Britain.

The delegates at Cardiff represent 60,000 railway men. The Independent Labor party in the House of Commons, numbering twenty-nine members, the majority of whom incline toward Socialist principles.
Detroit City: 25, Wadena; 26, Brainerd; 27, Minneapolis.
SOL FIELDSMAN: New York.
J. L. FITTS: West Virginia.
GEORGE H. GOEBEL: Idaho.
GERTRUDE BRESLAU HUNT: Oct. 21, Washington, Ind.; 22, Rag giesville; 23, Sullivan; 24-25, Terre Haute; 26, Clinton; 27, Enroute.
W. A. JACOBS: Milwaukee.
CAMERON H. KING, Jr.: Idaho of whom incline toward Socialist principles.
LENA MORROW LEWIS: Idaho.
ARTHUR MORROW LEWIS: Idaho.
GUY E. MILLER: Colorado.
A. M. STIRTON: Oct. 21-22, H. d. land, Mich.; 23, Muskegon; 24-26, Dowagiac; 27, Detroit.
ANTON STURM (German): Colorado.
M. W. WILKINS: New York.
JOHN M. WORK: Colorado.

Social-Democratic Herald—Business Dept.

Address all communications, money orders, etc., to the

MILWAUKEE SOCIAL-DEMOCRATIC PUBLISHING CO.

244 Sixth Street, Milwaukee, Wis.

Telephone Grand 2394. H. W. BISTORTIUS, Business Manager.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—One year, 50 cents. Clubs of three, $1.25. Six months, 25 cents. No papers sent to any one unless paid in advance, except in Milwaukee where the price is 75 cents a year when sent on credit. If, without having subscribed, you receive it, then it has been subscribed and paid for by a friend. Foreign subscriptions, $1.00.

BUNDLE RATES.
100 copies, more or less, per copy $.01
200 copies or more, per 100 (delivered outside Milwaukee)75
200 copies or more, per 100 (in Milwaukee only if called for)50

Weekly Bundles.
Five copies, 3 months, to one address50
Ten copies, 3 months, to one address90
Five copies, one year, to one address 1.75
Ten copies, one year, to one address 3.00
Twenty-five copies, one year, to one address 8.00
Fifty copies, one year, to one address 15.00
Advertising rates furnished on application.

We reserve the right to terminate any advertising contract without notice.

Receipts of Remittances for Subscriptions are acknowledged by the number on the wrapper. Separate receipts are never sent.

Does This Look Good to You?

We have got the capitalist parties on the run. Let us keep them going. Are you with us or agin' us? You're doing it. Do it right. Make them holler the same as they made us holler in the past. Take a part in the work. Make yourself a part of the system. Get in line now. Resolve that you will put your name among those who are helping. You won't miss the small amount required. You will only be sore at yourself when the time comes that the working class will assume its place as the savior of the nation, that you did not fight in the front rank. You ask how this can be done. It is easy. Subscribe for one or more shares of stock in the Milwaukee Social-Democratic Publishing Co. Get the Herald free for life. Aid in making the Herald the best Socialist paper in the world. Fill out the blank below and send it in today.

STOCK SUBSCRIPTION

To the Milwaukee Social-Democratic Publishing Co., 344 Sixth street, Milwaukee, Wis.

I, the undersigned, hereby subscribe for the number of shares of the capital stock of the Milwaukee Social-Democratic Publishing Company, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, set opposite my signature, and I agree to pay to the said Milwaukee Social-Democratic Publishing Company for each share so subscribed the sum of five dollars in cash or in monthly installments of not less than fifty cents, due and payable on and before the last day of each month, the first installment to accompany the application for stock, and each paid-up share to have one vote. It is understood that each paid up share-holder gets the Social-Democratic Herald for life.

No. of Shares Name
Amount Address

To What is Economic and Political Development Tending?
Continued from page 4.

last century stood the lowest, that is, the miners and textile workers. What intellectual and moral degradation prevailed among them can be seen from chapter 7 of the above cited reports of the Commission, especially for 1832, 1833, 1842 and 1843.

The soft voice of a Saxon attaché of the German ambassador will perhaps receive less attention among Socialists than the deep bass of a radical Socialist. And therefore we will now quote Frederick Engels.

According to Engels, two classes of the English working people have undoubtedly risen in the social scale—the factory workers and the members of the great trades unions.

"A permanent improvement," he writes in 1892 in his well-known preface to his Condition of the Working Class in England, "can be recognized for two 'protected' portions only of the working class.

"Firstly, the factory hands. The fixing by Act of Parliament of their working day within relatively rational limits has restored their physical constitution and endowed them with a moral superiority, enhanced by their local concentration.

"Secondly, the great Trades Unions. They are the organizations of those trades in which the labor of grown up men predominates, or is alone applicable. Here the competition neither of women and children nor of machinery has so far weakened their organized strength. The engineers, the carpenters and joiners, the bricklayers, are each of them a power, to that extent that, as in the case of the bricklayers and bricklayers' laborers, they can even successfully resist the introduction of machinery. That their condition has remarkably improved since 1848 there can be no doubt, and the best proof of this is in the fact, that for more than fifteen years not only have their employers been upon exceedingly good terms with them, but they also with their employers. They form an aristocracy among the working class, they have succeeded in enforcing for themselves a relatively comfortable position, and they accept it as final."

The great mass of the workingmen, according to Engels, still remains on their former low level. The East End of London is still the same vast slough of stagnant misery and despair.

But now there is at least a little stir in this frightful pool of filth. The awakening of the East End filled the soul of Frederick Engels with jubilation. Inspired by this awakening, our old master took it as one of the greatest and most fruitful events of that fin de siècle, that end of the nineteenth century.

"The East End," he writes, "has shaken off its torpid despair, has returned to life, and has become the home of what is called the 'New Unionism,' that is to say, of the organization of the great mass of 'unskilled' workers. Undoubtedly, the East Enders have committed colossal blunders; so have their predecessors, and so do the doctrinaire Socialists who pooh-pooh them. A large class, like a great nation, never learns better or quicker than by undergoing the consequences of its own mistakes. And for all the faults committed in past, present and future, the revival of the East End of London remains one of the greatest and most fruitful facts of this fin de siècle, and glad and proud I am to have lived to see it."

The residuum, the dull, heavy remainder of misery, begins to move. There is now a well founded hope that this residuum, these dark dregs of the people, will be uplifted.

The great expert in the condition of the English workers, Sidney Webb, is also full of this joyful confidence. And since Sidney Webb is no bourgeois optimist, but an outspoken Socialist, we will here cite his words.

[A further installment of this translation will be published in our next issue.]

HEADQUARTERS

STOVES AND RANGES

We positively guarantee every stove or range we sell to do good work.
After the stove has been installed at your home, we promise to see that you thoroughly understand the stove and to show you how to obtain the most perfect results.
We carry a large and full assortment of stoves to choose from and our low prices ought to interest you; also a neat line of stove boards, pipes, oil cloths, polish, etc. Let us show you our black crameled stove pipes, something new.
FRED. J. BENNING, 701 MUSKEGO AVE., NEAR MITCHELL ST.

The Federated Trades Council of Milwaukee

HEADQUARTERS: 318 State Street,
Telephone Grand 1742.

The Regular Meetings of the Council are held on First and Third Wednesdays, at 8 O'clock, at First Germania Hall, Fourth Street, betw. State and Cedar.

OFFICERS:
Cor. Secretary: JOHN BRECHT, 318 State St.
Sec. Secretary: FREDERICK HEATH, 318 State St.
Treasurer: HENRY HOPPE, 218 State St.
WILLIAM E. ACKER, 218 State St.
M. WEISSER, 1577 Lake Ave.
Sergeant at Arms: Asaphus Agat, FRANK J. WEBER, 318 State St.

EXECUTIVE BOARD: W. S. Fischer, 197 Eighth St., Secretary; Edw. Rosenberg, J. J. Handley, Ed. Berner, James Sheehan, Emil Brock, Thos. Feeley. Meets half hour previous to sessions of Council.

COMMITTEES:
ORGANIZATION and CREDENTIALS: Wm. Schwab, P. K. Neumann, John J. Handley, Frank Meister.
LEGISLATION and LAWS: F. J. Weber, Jas. Sheehan, Edm. Berner, Wm. Hamann, Jas. Handrickson.
GRUANCE and ARBITRATION: Wm. Coleman, Henry Zastrow, Chas. Dypel, Chas. Jeske.
SALUTARY CONTIONS: Frederic Heath, Henry Taves, Frank Meister.
NOMINATION: Wm. Griebling, Fred'k Wilson, Jacob Camblor, Robt. Hahn, Chas. Will.

LABEL SECTION: Meets 1st and 3rd Monday evenings, 1118 State Street. H. Book, care of St. Charles Hotel Barber Shop, Secretary; Frank Meister, Chairman.

BUILDING TRADES SECTION: Meets 2nd and 4th Thursday at 218 State St. Fred'k Heise, Secretary, 218 State Street; Wm. Griebling, Chairman.

ALWAYS DEMAND THE UNION LABEL!

Union Barber Shops

Always use that card is displayed before getting shaved or your hair cut

ADAMS SHAVING PARLOR
600 Chestnut Street,
The Model Hair Shop!

AL. F. DRESEN,
SHAVING PARLOR
HOT AND COLD BATHS.
1002 NINICK AVE. COR. LINCOLN AVE.

ADAM FREY,
BARBER
1330 CHERRY STREET.

FRED. GROSSE,
577 East Water St.
...Shaving Parlor...
Fine Line of Union Cigars.

J. N. GAUER,
Shaving Parlor,
865 Kinnickinnio Avenue, opposite South Bay St.

LAWRENCE HAUZ,
SHAVING PARLOR
1255 Kinnickinnio Avenue

LANGE & WELLS
BARBER SHOP
281 Third Street, Corner State.
Under Kuris Bros.

FOR A FIRST CLASS HAIR CUT, OR SHAVE GO TO
"THE BARBER SHOP"
610 CENTER STREET.
P. M. LUTZENBERGER, Prop.

EDW. NIESKE,
Successor to PHIL. C. KAMMERER.
First-class work guaranteed.
454 Reed St., corner Scott.

H. C. MUNDT,
SHAVING PARLOR
168 Lloyd Street
FINE LINE OF UNION CIGARS.

CHAS. MAROHN
SHAVING PARLOR
467 RUSSELL AVE. CLEAN SERVICE

GEO. P. PRUESSING
SHAVING PARLOR
911 Third St. First Class Service

YOUNG RICHARD PETRI'S
SHAVING PARLOR
Imported Toilet Water With Every Shave.
COR. 28th and CYPRESS STREETS

H. SCHIRER,
BARBER SHOP, FINE LINE OF CIGARS.
1208 Chestnut Street, Milwaukee.

ST. CHARLES HOTEL
Barber Shop & Bath Rooms.
EMIL TRIEBL, Proprietor.

ALBY KOLOFF'S
Bowling Alleys
635 First St. Fine Cigars.

Hy. F. Schmidt's Hall
Saloon, Sample and Wine Room
Hall for Club Parties and Weddings, Banquets, etc.
Serving every Saturday & Sunday Evening.
21st Ave. and Rogers St., Milwaukee, Wis.

THE HOME TEA CO.
293 Grove St., Milwaukee, Wis.
Serving the best TEA and COFFEES at the best prices.
Also carry a full line of Groceries.

Vogentz & Ruhnke, Props.
Black and white and colored photographs. For sale in gold and silver frames.

Dr. Robt. F. Erier
DENTIST
Office, 6864 NORTH AVE.

YOU NEED GLASSES?
Why not get them from
Dr. J. E. Rosenberg,
Optician, Oculist,
875 GROVE STREET,
MILWAUKEE, WIS.
Ocular Exam. Free. No. 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

Federated Trades Council.
Regular meeting, Oct. 17, 1906—Bro. Griebling in the chair; Bro. Neumann, vice chairman.

New delegates seated from Painters No. 100, Marble Workers. Executive Board: Communication from Lithographers' Protective Association asking financial aid for their strike. Communication from Brotherhood of Bookbinders asking that badges have the Allied Printing Trades label printed on the same instead of being pasted on, as the latter practice is resorted to when badge is not fully a union product. Delegates instructed to report back. Communication from Metal Polishers reminding labor that the Buck Stove and Range company of St. Louis was still unfair to organized labor. Delegates asked to take note. Reported that the total receipts of Labor Day were $3,503.05, expenditures $2,261.62 (with bill of about $50 yet to be received) and cash on hand of $1,301.43. Executive Board report approved.

The Building Trades Section reported having decided to have a large bulletin printed for hanging in various halls. Bro. Heise was elected recording secretary for the balance of the quarter. Report approved.

A resolution, also recommended by the executive board, calling on all unions throughout the state to pledge themselves to render financial assistance, through the State Federation of Labor, to the striking

DRINK Schlitz
The Beer that Made Milwaukee Famous.

The main difference between good beer and bad beer is in the after-effect. You notice that pure beer, Schlitz beer, does not make you bilious. Pure beer is good for you; bad beer is unhealthful. You may be absolutely certain of its healthfulness when you drink Schlitz Beer.

I CAN SELL Your Real Estate or Business
NO MATTER WHERE LOCATED
Properties and Business of all kinds sold quickly for cash in all parts of the United States. I will write you a full description of what you have to sell and give cash price on order.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY
any kind of Real Estate or Real Estate anywhere, at any price, write me your requirements. I can save you time and money.

DAVID P. TAPP, THE LAND MAN,
418 Kansas Avenue,
TOPEKA, KANSAS.

MINERAL WATERS.

JOHN LUELL
MANUFACTURER OF
FINE CIGARS
236 Second Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis.

I ADVERTISE SMALL WHY
BECAUSE I CAN AFFORD TO ADVERTISE SMALLER ADVERTISING
LUDWIG BERG 1710 N. 1ST ST.

NEW STORE 634 Third St.
Hoffman Photo Engraving & Specialty

MIES BE YOUR TAILOR!
The only UNION TAILOR SHOP in Bay View
675 KINNICKINNIO AVE.
Phone No. 608. Near SOUTH BAY ST.

ORGANIZED LABOR

molders, was introduced. On motion, resolution was adopted, and ordered sent to secretary of the State Federation of Labor.

Delegates reported on action of unions in regard to assessment of 25 cents a month per member for four months for the striking molders. Among the unions taking favorable action were the Boiler Makers, Electrical Workers, Teamsters, Carpenters No. 1053, Carpenters No. 1748, Brewery Workers No. 9, Glass Blowers, Machinists No. 234, Boot and Shoe Workers, Painters No. 1066, and others.

Receipts for evening, $49.35; disbursements $53.95.

Frederic Heath, R.C. Sec'y.

Report on Labor Day Picnic.

BAR RECEIPTS.

Bar No. 2	$115.00
Bar No. 3	100.00
Bar No. 4	100.00
Bar No. 5	100.00
Bar No. 6	100.00
Bar No. 7	100.00
Bar No. 8	100.00
Bar No. 9	100.00
Bar No. 10	100.00
Bar No. 11	100.00
Bar No. 12	100.00
Bar No. 13	100.00
Bar No. 14	100.00
Bar No. 15	100.00
Bar No. 16	100.00
Bar No. 17	100.00
Bar No. 18	100.00
Bar No. 19	100.00
Bar No. 20	100.00
Bar No. 21	100.00
Bar No. 22	100.00
Bar No. 23	100.00
Bar No. 24	100.00
Bar No. 25	100.00
Bar No. 26	100.00
Bar No. 27	100.00
Bar No. 28	100.00
Bar No. 29	100.00
Bar No. 30	100.00
Bar No. 31	100.00
Bar No. 32	100.00
Bar No. 33	100.00
Bar No. 34	100.00
Bar No. 35	100.00
Bar No. 36	100.00
Bar No. 37	100.00
Bar No. 38	100.00
Bar No. 39	100.00
Bar No. 40	100.00
Bar No. 41	100.00
Bar No. 42	100.00
Bar No. 43	100.00
Bar No. 44	100.00
Bar No. 45	100.00
Bar No. 46	100.00
Bar No. 47	100.00
Bar No. 48	100.00
Bar No. 49	100.00
Bar No. 50	100.00
Bar No. 51	100.00
Bar No. 52	100.00
Bar No. 53	100.00
Bar No. 54	100.00
Bar No. 55	100.00
Bar No. 56	100.00
Bar No. 57	100.00
Bar No. 58	100.00
Bar No. 59	100.00
Bar No. 60	100.00
Bar No. 61	100.00
Bar No. 62	100.00
Bar No. 63	100.00
Bar No. 64	100.00
Bar No. 65	100.00
Bar No. 66	100.00
Bar No. 67	100.00
Bar No. 68	100.00
Bar No. 69	100.00
Bar No. 70	100.00
Bar No. 71	100.00
Bar No. 72	100.00
Bar No. 73	100.00
Bar No. 74	100.00
Bar No. 75	100.00
Bar No. 76	100.00
Bar No. 77	100.00
Bar No. 78	100.00
Bar No. 79	100.00
Bar No. 80	100.00
Bar No. 81	100.00
Bar No. 82	100.00
Bar No. 83	100.00
Bar No. 84	100.00
Bar No. 85	100.00
Bar No. 86	100.00
Bar No. 87	100.00
Bar No. 88	100.00
Bar No. 89	100.00
Bar No. 90	100.00
Bar No. 91	100.00
Bar No. 92	100.00
Bar No. 93	100.00
Bar No. 94	100.00
Bar No. 95	100.00
Bar No. 96	100.00
Bar No. 97	100.00
Bar No. 98	100.00
Bar No. 99	100.00
Bar No. 100	100.00

GATE RECEIPTS.

Gate No. 1	230.00
Gate No. 2	30.00
Gate No. 3	135.00
Gate No. 4	70.00
Gate No. 5	230.00
Gate No. 6	61.40
Gate No. 7	97.20

Games.

Swing	$25.00
Carrousal	25.00
Wheel of Fortune	50.00
Knocker	10.00
Doll Rack	30.00
Cane Stand	35.00
Shooting Gallery	15.00
Doll Rack	25.20
Shooting Gallery	11.90
Cane Stand	20.85
Knocker	21.75
Swing	15.60
Carrousal	17.05
Wheel of Fortune	33.35

DANCE RECEIPTS.

Tickets	$92.10
Percentage from Labor Day
Herald ads	$6.00

KITCHEN AND LUNCH STAND RECEIPTS.

For Supplies sold	$1.35
Meals and Lunches	77.75
Meals and Lunches	84.80

EXPENDITURES.

Schlitz Park Co. for Privileges	20.50
Bit and Matches	1.22
Wm. Schwab for distributing flyers	12.00
Iron molders for distributing programs	1.50
Walter T. Miller, speaker	30.00
Lineman on high wire	5.00
One molder, for distributing programmes	.75
J. Nuse, gateman	5.00
G. Hintz, gateman	5.00
F. Nowak, gateman	5.00
H. Breden, gateman	5.00
Garthick, ticket office	5.00
C. Harris, ticket office	5.00
M. B. Howard, high wire walker	75.00
H. Hackendahl, for matches	.50
F. J. Hauerwas, for bartenders	98.00
Wm. Dietrich, bartender	5.00
Geo. Morschel, bartender	5.00
Gust. Richter, bar cashier	5.00
Boy to gather glasses	2.50
Telegram	40.00
Schlitz Park Co. for beer	40.50
Schlitz Park Co. for rent	75.00
Schlitz Park Co. for broken and lost glasses	15.55
Schlitz Park Co. for percentage on games	201.35
Carriage for treasurer	3.00
H. Stern & Bro., ribbon for badges	2.52
Adam Kaufmann, for bar checks	15.85
Wm. Mfg. Co. for lumber	.75
F. E. Henderson, for soft drinks	43.60
Schueppert & Zoeller for printing	18.00
John Lnell, for cigars	15.00
Ed. Berner, for cigars	19.50
Ed. Berner, advance on kitchen supplies	40.00
Joy Bros. for tent	25.00
Franz Mayr for music and supper	170.30
Evening Wisconsin, for advertising	8.40
A. P. Eslein for carbonated drinks	15.28
F. J. Weber, for pins, etc.	.40
L. Berg for 1 doz aprons	2.65
Social-Democratic Herald, for advertising	12.30
Wia. Vorwaerts, advertising	12.30
F. Wollager, prompter	3.00
Chas. Jeske, ticket seller at dance	2.00
F. Witte, ticket taker at dance	2.50
H. Rasch, bartender	5.00
H. Wederich, cashier, bar	5.00
H. Hooper, bartender	5.00
H. Harbicht, cashier, bar	5.00

GRAND TOTAL $1563.05
Expenditures to date 2261.62

Oct. 5, Cash on hand $1301.43
All of which is respectfully and fraternally submitted.

LABOR DAY COMMITTEE.
F. E. Neumann, Sec.
John Reichert, Fin. Sec.

Borgwardt & Niemann
Embalmers and Funeral Directors.
1081 Kinnickinnio Ave.

Job Printing
IN ALL ITS BRANCHES

We do all kinds of neat and up-to-date printing, such as Catalogues, Circulars, Brochures, etc. We also do Letter Heads, Business Cards, etc.

We do First Class Book-binding, Electrotyping and Stereotyping.

Germania Job Department
West Water and Wells Streets

Adolph Houmann 271 3rd St.
Phone 99 Bond

SAMPLE ROOM and BOTTLE HOUSE

Gust. J. Rogahn
Manufacturer of
FINE CIGARS...
Brands: 100-Royal Jaws & Arrows—100 St.-Cannon Bk. and Old Iron Spits—54 700 Pearl St. Phone Connection.

MILWAUKEE COUNTY COURT, IN PROBATE.
STATE OF WISCONSIN, ss. In the matter of the Last Will and Testament of ANTON KAECH, Deceased.

WHEREAS, An instrument in writing, purporting to be the Last Will and Testament of ANTON KAECH, deceased, late of Milwaukee County, has been delivered and deposited with the Clerk of said County, and whereas, application has been made by ANNA KAECH, the widow of said deceased, praying that the same be admitted to Probate, according to the laws of this state, and that Letters Testamentary be granted thereon according to law to said ANNA KAECH, or to some other suitable person.

IT IS ORDERED, That said application be heard before this Court at a regular term thereof, to be held in the County Court room at the Court House in the City of Milwaukee, on the 2nd Tuesday of November, A. D. 1906, at 9 o'clock A. M., or as soon thereafter as the same may be reached on the calendar.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of said application and hearing be given by publishing a copy of this order for three weeks successively, once each week, in the Social-Democratic Herald, a newspaper printed in said City, prior to said hearing. Dated this 1st day of October, 1906.

By the Court, PAUL D. CARPENTER, County Judge.

RICHARD ELNER, Attorney at Law.

MILWAUKEE COUNTY COURT, IN PROBATE.
STATE OF WISCONSIN, ss. In the matter of the Last Will and Testament of AUGUSTINE OEHLMANN, Deceased.

WHEREAS, An instrument in writing, purporting to be the Last Will and Testament of AUGUSTINE OEHLMANN, deceased, late of Milwaukee County, has been delivered and deposited with the Clerk of said County, and whereas, application has been made by EMILIE THEM, the executrix named in said Last Will, praying that the same be admitted to Probate, according to the laws of this state, and that Letters Testamentary be granted thereon according to law to her, or to some other suitable person.

IT IS ORDERED, That said application be heard before this Court at a regular term thereof, to be held in the County Court room at the Court House in the City of Milwaukee, on the 2nd Tuesday of November, A. D. 1906, at 9 o'clock A. M., or as soon thereafter as the same may be reached on the calendar.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of said application and hearing be given by publishing a copy of this order for three weeks successively, once each week, in the Social-Democratic Herald, a newspaper printed in said City, prior to said hearing. Dated this 2nd day of October, 1906.

By the Court, PAUL D. CARPENTER, County Judge.

RICHARD ELNER, Attorney at Law.

Bender's Clothes

are clothes of quality, satisfaction, style, merit and safety. They are the clothes that are bound to please. That is our constant effort—to please you—our customer. Men's Suits and Overcoats from $6.00 to $20.00

M. Bender 450 11th Av. Cor. Scott

BORCHARDT BROS.,
TAILORS and FURNISHERS.
107-145 Grove St., Milwaukee.
Phone 245 Bond

We take the following from the Iron Molders' Journal:

The Social-Democratic aldermen in the Milwaukee city council gave the old party politicians a terrible shock last month. As the Republican and Democratic aldermen entered the council chamber, they were startled to see the galleries crowded with workmen. The mayor and city attorney came over to the Socialist aldermen and anxiously inquired what they had up their sleeves? They received no enlightenment until the order of new business was reached. Then a Social-Democratic alderman offered the following resolution: "Whereas, more than 1,200 molders residing in the city of Milwaukee were forced to lay down their work May 1, 1906, in order to secure a living wage, and whereas, about 100 men have been imported from all over the country by the Milwaukee members of the Foundrymen's Association for the purpose of breaking said strike and to crush the Molders' Union; and whereas, said strike-breakers are a dangerous class of people and are likely to become a serious menace to the city if their numbers are increased; therefore, be it resolved, that the Common Council of the City of Milwaukee hereby extends its sympathy to said striking molders and respectfully recommends that the Foundrymen's Association grant their demands without unnecessary delay. Further resolved, that the city clerk is hereby directed to mail forthwith a copy of this resolution to each Milwaukee member of said Foundrymen's Association." The Republican and Democratic aldermen were dumbfounded. They looked along the galleries filled with resolute-looking workmen, and they thought of election day. Then they proposed a compromise, advising that the strikers and their employers "settle their differences," but the Social-Democratic aldermen would have none of it. Alderman Melms (Social-Democrat) defended the cause of the striking molders in a fine and effective speech. Finally, under compulsion of the Social-Democrats in the galleries and on the floor of the council the old party politicians were obliged to take their medicine. The resolutions were passed without change of one word, and with only two dissenting votes. This is probably the first time in the history of the country that the common council of any American city ever advised capitalists to grant the demands of their workmen.

MILWAUKEE COUNTY COURT, IN PROBATE.
STATE OF WISCONSIN, ss. In the matter of the Last Will and Testament of ANTON KAECH, Deceased.

WHEREAS, An instrument in writing, purporting to be the Last Will and Testament of ANTON KAECH, deceased, late of Milwaukee County, has been delivered and deposited with the Clerk of said County, and whereas, application has been made by ANNA KAECH, the widow of said deceased, praying that the same be admitted to Probate, according to the laws of this state, and that Letters Testamentary be granted thereon according to law to said ANNA KAECH, or to some other suitable person.

IT IS ORDERED, That said application be heard before this Court at a regular term thereof, to be held in the County Court room at the Court House in the City of Milwaukee, on the 2nd Tuesday of November, A. D. 1906, at 9 o'clock A. M., or as soon thereafter as the same may be reached on the calendar.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of said application and hearing be given by publishing a copy of this order for three weeks successively, once each week, in the Social-Democratic Herald, a newspaper printed in said City, prior to said hearing. Dated this 1st day of October, 1906.

By the Court, PAUL D. CARPENTER, County Judge.

RICHARD ELNER, Attorney at Law.

MILWAUKEE COUNTY COURT, IN PROBATE.
STATE OF WISCONSIN, ss. In the matter of the Last Will and Testament of AUGUSTINE OEHLMANN, Deceased.

WHEREAS, An instrument in writing, purporting to be the Last Will and Testament of AUGUSTINE OEHLMANN, deceased, late of Milwaukee County, has been delivered and deposited with the Clerk of said County, and whereas, application has been made by EMILIE THEM, the executrix named in said Last Will, praying that the same be admitted to Probate, according to the laws of this state, and that Letters Testamentary be granted thereon according to law to her, or to some other suitable person.

IT IS ORDERED, That said application be heard before this Court at a regular term thereof, to be held in the County Court room at the Court House in the City of Milwaukee, on the 2nd Tuesday of November, A. D. 1906, at 9 o'clock A. M., or as soon thereafter as the same may be reached on the calendar.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of said application and hearing be given by publishing a copy of this order for three weeks successively, once each week, in the Social-Democratic Herald, a newspaper printed in said City, prior to said hearing. Dated this 2nd day of October, 1906.

By the Court, PAUL D. CARPENTER, County Judge.

RICHARD ELNER, Attorney at Law.

EVERT VOTH, Undertaker
Open Day and Night 425 Grove St.

Doc's Place
WINES AND LIQUORS
Cream City Keg and Bottle Beer
261 Third St.

WM. ZASTROW
SALOON
1375 CHICAGO ROAD
Business Lunch—Free Lunch at all hours.
Fine Wines, Liquors and Cigars.

WISCONSIN STATE FEDERATION OF LABOR OFFICIAL DEPARTMENT.

EXECUTIVE BOARD:
FRANK GAUTHIER, 115 Fifth Ave. E., Anshuld, Wis.
DONALD LOGAN, 114 E. Main Street, Madison, Wis.<

WORKINGMEN'S SUITS

We make a specialty of our Workingmen's Suits and Overcoats. We see to it that the man who measures his wealth by his daily toil gets every dollar of value that can be put into a suit or overcoat at a stated price. We select durable and satisfactory fabrics, and then we see that the tailoring, the cut and every detail of the garment is

ABSOLUTELY RIGHT

UNION MADE

$1.50 BLUE FLANNEL UNION MADE SHIRTS AT $1.00

Suits and Overcoats from $7.50 to $25.00

LACHENMAIER & CO.

CORNER THIRD AND STATE STREETS

DARE THEY MEET US!

Boden's vainglorious talk of challenging Gaylord has borne fruit so quickly as to make his head swim. On Wednesday, State Organizer Thompson mailed him the following letter:

Dear Sir: According to the newspapers this morning you are reported as saying: "I challenge Mr. Gaylord to show that any Socialist authority ever advocated the marriage of one woman to one man for life."

As Mr. Gaylord's campaign manager and in the name of the Social-Democratic party, I hereby accept your challenge. Mr. Gaylord will meet you at any one of the Social-Democratic meetings that is mutually agreeable any time between now and the end of the campaign.

In accepting this challenge of yours, allow me to say that the working class of this city feel very deeply that you have insulted them in this and previous campaigns by reiterating this base insinuation in regard to free love. We have wanted a chance to meet you on a fair floor. We challenged you last spring to debate with us, but after all your slanderous blustering you refused to face us. You preferred rather to repeat your scandalous

MELMS CHALLENGES CARY!

Wm. J. Cary, Republican Candidate for Congress in the Fourth District, Dear Sir—I take the liberty of addressing you at this time, because I feel it part of my duty to the class of which I am a member, and which class you are now begging for support in the coming fall election, namely the working class. You are making a special effort to get the votes of that class.

In the past these men have lent their support to both Republican and Democratic parties. In the past they have waited patiently, session after session, expecting that their support to the old parties and their candidates would be repaid by acts in Congress which would benefit their class.

They have waited in vain. All they received was the promise before election. And you are repeating the performance.

I have carefully studied the literature which you have sent out broadcast to the working class. In the first place your phrases mean nothing. And in the second place you know that your promises can never be fulfilled by the Republican party, which is the party of trusts, nor by the Democratic party, which is controlled by the trusts.

Truly, the Republican and the Democratic parties have nothing in common with the laboring class. And the sooner the workingman will realize this the better it will be for himself, for his family, and for his class.

I say you are simply seeking the office for the salary and the glory that is in it.

What can the working man expect from a candidate who spends more to get an office than the salary amounts to?

And who pays the bills in the end? To draw up all of these matters, I hereby give you the opportunity to debate with me in public the question:

"Resolved, That the principles and the tactics of the Republican and the Democratic parties mean corruption to everybody, and slavery to the working class."

Should you accept my challenge, I shall be pleased to appoint a committee of one to meet with a similar committee of one appointed by you to make all necessary arrangements.

Hoping that you will avail yourself of this opportunity and trusting to hear from you at an early date, I remain,

Respectfully,
EDMUND T. MELMS.
Candidate for Congress, 4th District, Social-Democratic Party.
Milwaukee, Oct. 12.

STATE PAPERS TALK SOCIALISM!

The Baraboo Republic reports that the Municipal Ownership of city water works is a great success. That city cleared over $15,000 profits last year. Will the Milwaukee Sentinel please notice and copy. Of course it will not. The Sentinel doesn't want the people of Wisconsin to find out that Public Ownership is a success.

This is the time of the year when the festive candidate fills the county papers with fairy stories to the working people about how he loves the working man—how he used to labor, and how many friends he has among the "honest hardworking men of toil." That don't fool us as much as it used to. If you really loved labor, Mr. Candidate, you would be in the working class party—the Social-Democratic party.

The North Milwaukee Record remarks:—"Now, honest, aren't we a lot of bally idiots to pay $7.75 a ton for coal when with government ownership and operation we might be getting it at $4 a ton?"

The same paper has a big ad of the SOCIAL-DEMOCRATIC HERALD and announced the Social-Democratic meeting held there Tuesday evening.

The Door County Democrat in announcing Comrade Gaylord's meeting at Sturgeon Bay says that so far as known Mr. Gaylord is the only candidate for governor who will speak in Door County.

The editor of the Union, the union labor paper published in Minneapolis, comes out with a declaration of independence in which he tells the unions that he will fight the battles of labor in every direction and will not be limited by what a few office seeking men in the unions may desire. He publishes one page devoted entirely to the Public Ownership (Socialist) party of Minnesota.

The Darlington Democrat complains because the Republican platform is just like the Democratic platform. Why shouldn't they be the same? They both stand for capitalism.

The Washburn Times gives a full column report of Gaylord's lecture there recently and says there was a large audience present.

The Superior News-Tribune gives nearly a column of Comrade Seidel's meeting. The Telegram gives even more.

Everyone knows that living costs 48 per cent more than it did 20 years ago. Then where does the laboring man come in?—Wausau Herald. He's coming into the Social-Democratic party. See?

It Doesn't Cost Much More to have the feet well dressed. It is all in the fit and the style. If your footwear doesn't fully show these points, it makes little difference how much a pair you pay for them—they do not look right.

Would it not be well to seek for these results (better results) when buying footwear?

We give special attention to the style and fit in every pair of shoes we offer the public. It means increased business for us.

THE AMERICAN SHOE STORE
554 MITCHELL ST.

Good Shoes Make Good Friends!

It is our desire to sell only good shoes, because by doing so we will gain not alone your friendship but your continued patronage. This is what we want. You know it as well as we do—therefore there is no need of beating about the bush.

We believe in being out-spoken.

Lamers Bros.
SHOES
334 GROVE ST. MILWAUKEE, WIS.

A FAIR DEAL

You can get a fair and square deal at Bruett's. Our patrons know that we sell clothes of good quality and that prices are right. By giving us a fair trial YOU will also be convinced.

J. Bruett & Son
Men's and Boy's Outfitters
1725-1727-1729 Fond du Lac Ave.
(Cor. 15th and Lloyd Sts.)

KRAUS THE LEADING STOVE MAN

We carry a complete line of the well-known makes of STOVES and RANGES: Favorite, Home Stove, Lindeman and Moberg and Jewel.

Stoves sold for cash or time payments. Call and be convinced.

EDWIN J. KRAUS
General Hardware and Housefurnishing Goods.
1414 GREEN BAY AVE.

$1 CHICAGO TO CHICAGO

GOODRICH BOATS
Round Trip $1.50
Leave 8 P. M. Daily
Docks Foot of Bryantmore St.
Phone Grand 985

75c to Chicago BARRY LINE
STEAMERS every night at 8. Round trip $1.25. Berths $50. Office and docks East Water and Detroit Streets.
Phone M 331

Social-Democratic Party News.

WISCONSIN.

A new local has been organized at West Bend.

State Organizer Thompson has received invitations from two Milwaukee churches to speak on Socialism. He will, of course, accept.

Campaign Fund: There have been some generous contributions this week. See list in another column. Is your name written there? If not, get busy.

ONTARIO: Comrade Bry writes that he thinks their community is ready for organization, and for Socialist speakers. He is getting names for a local. This is another new field just opening.

Comrade Bry says that the capitalists in his neck of the woods still talk seriously that the Socialists teach free love. Bry is bringing them out of the woods.

MENOMONIE: A group of interested comrades meet together every week to study social and economic questions. They hope to organize a local soc. Mr. Gaylord has been asked to return for another lecture after election.

GRANTSBURG: Comrade Hallen is working to get a local organized.

WEST BEND: The comrades have hired a horse and wagon and are advertising the Gaylord meeting throughout the whole region. Gaylord is to speak there Tuesday, Oct. 25th.

HULL'S MEETINGS.

Comrade Hull had a small but interesting meeting at the Sauk Road schoolhouse just outside of Madison. He is breaking new ground for us. From Madison he went to Muskego, where he spoke Friday night. This is also a new place. From there the comrades took him to Monfort, where he held a very large and enthusiastic meeting.

OYSTER SEASON NOW OPEN

A large assortment of choice Lake, River and Ocean Fish and Herring always on hand.

TEWS' FISH MARKET
Phone 334 Blue
375 1st AVENUE.

FRANK KORSCH

HALL, SALOON and SAMPLE ROOM
Cor. Union and Arrow Sts.
Hall for Chopin Parties, Weddings, Schafel, Royal Tournaments and Meetings

Clothes Made by Measurement takes care of those small details necessary to bring out the effect so much desired by smartly dressed men. All work done by UNION TAILORS.

WALTER P. STROESSER, 316 State St.

JOY! OH, JOY!

4 Big Minstrel Shows 4
20 BLACK-FACE COMEDIANS 20
To Make You LAUGH, LAUGH and LAUGH Again

For Benefit of the Social-Democratic Press and Agitation Funds

Get Wise to the Warm Bunch! THEN BE ON DECK!

Bahn Frei Turn Hall, Nov. 17
Humboldt Turn Hall, Dec. 1
South Side Armory, Nov. 24
South Side Turn Hall, Dec. 8

ADMISSION 25 CENTS A PERSON

MILWAUKEE.

Social-Democratic Notes.

The Workingmen's Sick and Death Benefit Society, Branch No. 18, has arranged for a grand entertainment and ball at the South Side Turner hall, Sunday, Oct. 28. Admission 10 cents. After 6 o'clock, 25 cents. Everybody is cordially invited.

Don't fail to attend the monster entertainment and ball arranged by the 14th ward branch at Humboldt hall, Sunday afternoon and evening, Oct. 21. A good program has been secured for this occasion and the comrades and friends are most cordially invited to attend.

Always bear in mind the grand entertainment and ball arranged by the 9th ward branch at the North Side Turner hall, Sunday, Oct. 28. A large number of tickets have already been disposed of for this occasion.

Comrades, send in your subscription cards at once. We are in the midst of the battle and we need the funds.

Tonight the Socialist Movement will celebrate its 30th anniversary at

If Weiss Sells It, It's Right

Buy a Stove That Pays Dividends!

A stove that will annually pay interest on purchase price, by saving your fuel, is a good stove to own. This you must readily admit. Why not try a Garland stove?

$28

$60

LOUIS WEISS

HARDWARE

1117 Villet Street 'Phone Grand 813

The Garland Heaters and Ranges do this — because they are scientifically built of the best grey iron—air-tight, nickel trimmed, duplex grate, with a perfect flue system that draws the cold air from the floor, and a combustion that reduces the coal to a soft ash, getting all the heat value from the coal

Classified Advertising

FOR SALE
2000.00 NEW MODERN HOUSE, brick basement, up to date in every respect, on 15th St. near Burleigh. Very easy terms. Open Sunday, from 2 to 4 P. M. W. A. DUNN & CO., 10 Grand Ave., room 9. Tel. Grand 911.

FOR SALE
3000.00 Galena St. near Washington Park, two new flat buildings for sale cheap. Will accept vacant lots as part payment. ADAMS, GUNTER & CHANDLER, 401 Railway Exchange Bldg., 157 Wisconsin St.

WANTED
WANTED—Felt Hats, cleaned and re-stocked at reasonable prices. BY WIERST, 103 Fifth St.

WANTED—Teams, 244 Sixth St.

CROW STOVE POLISH CO.

We make the Blackest STOVE POLISH on earth and your dealer sells it. Yours truly,
CROW STOVE POLISH CO.

A SOLID BASIS!

The Social-Democratic Pub. Co. has for the past three or four years endeavored to solve the problem of making the income of the HERALD cover the expense without the necessity of constantly appealing to the readers.

There has been an enormous annual deficit to overcome. It was continually up to the management to devise means whereby this deficit could be met.

After taking the matter under consideration, the directors decided that, as the readers of the paper had to practically make up the deficit anyway, the expense of running the paper should be divided pro-rata.

The paper has been increased in size several times and its appearance improved, without any increase in the price.

It was hoped that we could continue to publish the paper at the old rate of 50 cents a year, but the experience of the last year has effectively proven that it can not be done.

This leaves but one alternative. In order to continue to publish the paper, in its present form, the cost price of its publication must be recovered.

This can only be done in one way, by raising the subscription price of the paper to $1.00 per year. This price will put the paper on a self-supporting basis, and instead of the burden falling on the shoulders of a few it will be divided equally.

The new price of $1.00 a year will take effect on and after November 1, 1906. All subscriptions received before that date will be taken at the old rate.

ROBT. BUECH SALOON

965 CLINTON STREET
Lunch at all hours
Fine Line of Union Cigars
Telephone Connection

KANITZ POPULAR ORCHESTRA

Furnish up-to-date Music for all occasions. Phone W 471.
2116 Fond du Lac Avenue, Milwaukee.

F. DANNENFELSER

Licensed Undertaker
Carriages and Supplies for all occasions.
670 3rd St. Telephone North 14

A. W. HAAS

Dealer in Fresh and Salt Meats, Poultry and Game in Season.
211 HOWELL AVENUE.

Otto C. Laabs DRUGGIST

1929 Villet St., Cor. 20.
Telephone White 362.

AND. BUEHLER PRINTING CO.

PRINTERS
620 East Water St., Milwaukee, Wis.

DR. CHURCHILL

Specialist in Diseases and Surgery of the EYE, EAR, NOSE and THROAT
415 MITCHELL STREET

BICYCLES AND PHONOGRAPHS

CASH OR TIME PAYMENTS
Bicycle supplies and repair parts of all kinds at RETAIL and WHOLESALE.
Largest assortment of tires and all kinds of COASTER BRAKES at lowest prices.

JOS. SCHOSTAK

431 Third St. Cor. Cherry St.
Telephone Clark 8595.
Store open Evenings until 10 o'clock.
Sunday until Noon.

Social-Democratic Candidates.

Congressional Candidates.
First District, Moses Hull.
Fourth District, Edmund T. Melms.
Fifth District, Albert J. Welch.
Sixth District, Geo. C. Damrow.
Seventh District, W. A. Hall.
Eighth District, John J. Pitz.
Ninth District, Jos. E. Harris.
Tenth District, James I. Cox.
Eleventh District, C. W. Swanson.

Senatorial Candidates.
Fifth District, Charles Zainer.
Seventh District, Wm. L. Hamann.

Assembly Candidates.
First District, David White.
Second District, Charles Gradowski.
Third District, Albert T. Neumann.
Fourth District, Patrick L. Devine.
Fifth District, William J. Aldridge.
Sixth District, Joseph Sultaire.

Governor:
Winfield R. Gaylord

Lieutenant Governor:
Wm. Kaufmann

Secretary of State:
Charles V. Schmidt

State Treasurer:
Joseph Ammann

Attorney General:
Richard Elsner

Com. of Insurance:
Herman W. Bistorius

Seventh District, Paul J. Bluhm.
Eighth District, Edwin Scalle.
Ninth District, Edmund J. Berner.
Tenth District, George Mensing.
Eleventh District, Frederick Brockhausen.
Twelfth District, Carl D. Thompson.
Thirteenth District, Henry F. Teetzen.
Fourteenth District, Martin Gorecki.
Fifteenth District, Charles B. Whitnall.
Sixteenth District, Frank J. Weber.

Milwaukee County Candidates.
County Clerk, Carl P. Dietz.
County Treasurer, Paul F. Mueller.
Sheriff, Willis E. Acker.
Coroner, Dr. Herman L. Nabin.
Clerk of Courts, Frederick Heath.
District Attorney, Wm. F. Thiel.
Register of Deeds, John J. Handley.
Surveyor, Alexander Glaesser.

You Get the Best and Most for Your Money at Barrett's

DEPARTMENT STORE

214-220
W. Water St.

Barrett's Stamps Are Just the Same as Money

Accepted in Payment for Anything You Buy, at 50c a Hundred

That Flag-rant Break!

For the benefit of future generations we will reprint the program of the Lipton reception from the daily papers, which being capitalist institutions devoted many columns to the great cause.

Here it is:
11 a. m.—Arrive in Milwaukee and start on automobile parade.
11:30 a. m.—Arrive at Soldiers' home.
11:45 a. m.—Start on return ride, via Sixteenth street viaduct.
12:30 p. m.—Arrive at Chamber of commerce.
12:45 p. m.—Visit to Milwaukee Athletic club rooms.
1 p. m.—Visit Milwaukee Downer college, where he will be greeted by 350 students in white gowns.
1:30 p. m.—Arrive at Whitefish Bay.
2 p. m.—Arrive at Milwaukee Yacht club.
2:30 p. m.—Trip across harbor in revenue cutter Tuscarora.
5 p. m.—Visit Milwaukee Press club.
5:30 p. m.—Go to Hotel Pfister.
7 p. m.—Reception at hotel.
8 p. m.—Banquet in main dining room.

Line of Automobile Parade.

Leave North-Western station at 11 o'clock; proceed west on Wisconsin street and Grand avenue to Soldiers' home; leave Soldiers' home at 12 o'clock and return on Grand avenue to Sixteenth street; cross Sixteenth street viaduct to National avenue; east on National avenue to Clinton street; north on Clinton street along East Water street to Michigan street; arrive at chamber of commerce at 12:30 o'clock; north on Broadway to Wells building; from the Wells building north on Jackson to Biddle and along Juneau park to Prospect avenue to Lafayette place to Terrace avenue, through Lake park to Milwaukee Downer; thence to Whitefish Bay; return to Milwaukee Yacht club, and then to Press club.—Daily Paper.

Town Topics by the Town Crier.

Some time ago the Becker push persuaded a magazine publisher of the East that it would be a service to the country to give a special write-up of Milwaukee's boy mayor, and that such an article would have great value in getting readers for the magazine and tend to make it more popular. Thereupon the said publisher induced Lincoln Steffens to undertake the task of personally interviewing the youngster and giving his readers a pen picture of the new force in civic development.

Well, Lincoln Steffens came to Milwaukee and spent a day, or less, with the young executive. Prior to calling on him, however, he had had a talk with Becker's political cronies. After he got through with the mayor he returned to the cronies. His face wore an expression of disgust. They tried to reassure him, but in vain.

"I simply can't write him up, gentlemen," said Mr. Steffens; "I won't write him up—why he's a d—d fool—there's nothing to write about!" And Steffens departed on the next train for the East.

These words we have quoted were the exact ones used by the famous magazine writer, as given us by one who heard them spoken. Such is fame—purchased with the dollars of a papa who is a banker and ex-railroad magnate!

Dr. Henry Nehrling was not good enough for Milwaukee as custodian of the Public Museum and the gang replaced him with a small imported specimen from the Ward specimen bureau in Rochester, giving the Ward people a fine chance to work off shelf worn curios on us. But Henry Nehrling is good enough for the United States government and it has just chosen him a collaborator at Washington, and as scientific specialist to tour the globe in the interests of science. The crooked decapitation of Mr. Nehrling as head of the Milwaukee museum makes one of the foulest pages in the history of Milwaukee officialdom. It happened under Rose, but the same gang are still in power.

The archbishop wants a slice of the public school fund. This is what is behind his get-together massmeeting at Schlitz Park last Sunday. He is bound to force his church into politics, and if he has his way Wisconsin will in a few years be in the throes of a war of religious and irreligious rancor such as has not shaken this country during its century of peace under its policy of the separation of church and state.

Such pitiful meetings as the old parties are having! The other night the county candidates spoke at a hall in the Nineteenth ward to practically empty chairs. Finally three men got up and started to walk out. This would have nearly cut the audience in half, so the door tender rushed over to them and

AT THE THEATERS.

DAVIDSON.

Dwight Elmendorf, the globe trotter, who is delivering a series of travel lectures at the Davidson theater during the present month, will discuss "Northern Italy" at that house at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

The concluding lecture of the course, which will be devoted to "Southern Italy," will be delivered the succeeding Tuesday at 4 o'clock.

In his own version of "Les Misérables," entitled "The Law and the Man," Wilton Lackaye comes to the Davidson theater for an engagement of three nights and a Saturday matinee. The drama founded on the famous novel of Victor Hugo is practically new, having been on the road but a few realistic play of California life. It is the story of a girl who leaves her home to earn her own living and is betrayed into the clutches of Chang Wah, the King of Frisco's Chinatown, by a disreputable character known as Kingpin and his paramour Hester Galloway, who offer to assist her in gaining honest employment.

Some fine specialties are introduced and comedy is kept rampant by Freddie and Kate, and Rosy O'Grady, who keeps a jag and a pail of beer as her companions.

Chas. T. Aldrich in "Secret Service Sam" comes to the Bijou week of October 28.

ALHAMBRA.

"A Message from Mars," which opens at the Alhambra Sunday afternoon, has tested its popularity by a three years' run in London, two years at the Garrick theater in New York and since then by three years on tour in the United States. It is a play that will interest Social-Democrats. The comedy element is weeks, and Milwaukee is particularly lucky in securing it at this time. Mr. Lackaye has taken the story of Jean Valjean and, after years of labor, has constructed a coherent stirring play upon it.

Elmendorf, Lecturer.—Davidson.

On next Monday evening, that talented actress, Miss Maxine Elliott, comes to the Davidson, for four performances of the Clyde Fitch comedy, "Her Great Match." Miss Elliott will be seen on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings and Wednesday matinee, in this fine play, which is regarded as the best vehicle that has been furnished her since she became an individual star.

BIJOU THEATER.

"On Dangerous Ground" opens at the Bijou tomorrow. It is a strong, clean-cut and abundant. The dialogue is brilliant. Mr. Proctor, the leading man, began his career in London and is an exact counterpart of Senator Bailey of Texas, in appearance.

David Proctor in "A Message from Mars."

STAR THEATER.

The "Tiger Lilies" will open Sunday at the Star with an incomparable troupe of burlesques. The usual matinees.

Joe Gans, champion light-weight of the world, conqueror of Battling Nelson, will be the attraction at the Star the coming week, and will be open to meet all comers.

Scene in "Dangerous Ground." The HERALD, ten weeks, 10 cts.

A Good Snap for Shrewd Buyers!!

We bought the entire fall stock of Suits and Overcoats from Cohn Bros., Chicago's famous clothing makers, at 67c on the dollar, and will put them on sale Saturday, October 20th, at prices that will give you a big saving.

Men's $10, $12 and $15.00 Suits and Overcoats in this sale $8.88

Men's $18, $20 & $22 Suits and Overcoats in this sale $14.95

Moritz Bros. & Winter's

OUT OF THE DISTRICT Big Store

The HERALD, ten weeks, 10 cts.

Forced To Vacate

This Great Removal Sale

Draws to a Close

Only a few days more and it is a thing of the past, yet the few remaining days will witness terrific price sacrificing to reduce our magnificent

$75,000.00 Jewelry Stock

And to get it in shape for the moving which takes place in a few days

Take Advantage of the Remarkable Offerings—

Buy Your Christmas Gifts Now

A few mentions:

- 50c Sterling Silver Bracelets.....10c
- 50c Six Nut Picks and Crack Sets.....24c
- 75c Rogers 1847 Sugar Shells.....45c
- $1.00 Fountain Pens.....35c
- $1.25 Sterling Silver Bracelets.....75c
- $5.00 Metal Clocks, 8-day, gong strike.....$2.98
- $6.00 Five-Light Silver Candelabra.....$3.98
- $15 Ladies' Gold Filled 20-yr. Elgin Watch.....$11.75
- $25.00 17-yr. Gold Filled Watches.....$16.98

Archie Tegtmeyer

330 Grove Street, Corner National Avenue

WHY NOT TRY THE "Dollar Off" Shoe?

A dollar off the price—a dollar in your pocket. That's what

The MEYER $2.50 SHOE means to you. No need to pay $3.50 $4 or more

All leathers, for all weathers. All smart, up-to-date fall styles.

AT ONE PRICE—Always $2.50

Before you buy the next pair be sure to see the new models on display at both the

MeyerStores

207 West Water Street
288 Grand Avenue

Jewel Base Burners Are the Most Powerful Heaters

They give one-third more heat from one-third less coal than any other make.

The Double Heating System in Jewel Heaters draws all the cold air from the floor, thus ensuring an even temperature in the room.

Have automatic inside gas cover. Handsome swell front and beautiful nickel trimmings.

Ask for the Regal Jewel

A good size heater with large firepot and improved duplex grate, for all kinds of fuel. A most perfect self-feeder for.....$30

Others $25 to $40

"IF IT'S FROM GROSS IT'S GOOD"

Ph. Gross Hardware Co.
128-128 GRAND AVENUE

Hot Shots!

Lord Scully is dead. He had fifty millions, too. Milwaukee's call mayor ought to order the flags at half mast!

Cary would rather walk through a burning building than face Melius on a public platform for a debate. Watch him dodge that challenge to debate!

"Bill" Hecker will make a good tax commissioner, because the all-wise town call appointed him and Con Corcoran said he was just the man for the job.

And the grafter fraternity are even mean enough to talk it around on the quiet that ex-Dist. Atty. Benn. it couldn't talk any other way in this campaign if he wanted to. The story goes that the reason he took so many grafters' cases after he retired from the district attorney's office was because he had done something that the grafters knew about and that they blackmailed him into submission to their wishes. On the other hand Mr. Bennett says he is working for grafter candidate Boden's election wholly from choice.

The gullible young man who is running for district attorney on the lonesome Democratic ticket and who has been "assured" that Boden would not get Democratic Catholic votes, must have read the reports of that Catholic get-together demonstration last Sunday with considerable disquiet and agitation of mind.

With the candidate for governor of Wisconsin on the Democratic ticket a paid corporation lobbyist, and the real candidate for governor on the Republican ticket a millionaire lumberman and pluck-me company store man, the decent voter may out of sheer self-respect have to cast his ballot for the Social-Democratic candidate, who is not "respectable" enough to have ever been a lobbyist or a labor-houder.

Things are not going as the politicians expected. The mix-up and the uncertainty are giving them an endless amount of worry. The Boden crowd are now afraid that Thiel's strength will upset all their calculations and are trying to work various deals in an effort to frame up a better situation for themselves. They have been trying for the past week to make a deal with the Democrats whereby the Democrats are to vote for Boden and in return the Republicans are to knife their candidates for sheriff and register of deeds. And in the face of all this kind of work the candidates are telling the straggling knots of voters that they can coax out to hear them that harmony has been established and that the candidates are absolutely pulling together.

Let the old partysites split their votes if they want to, we Social Democrats are not in that kind of a box. With them it is always the most unfit men who get the nominations, and then, also, there is the "high minded" desire to reward "good fellows" for being "good" and all that kind of thing. So it is no wonder they always give us rotten government.

But the Social-Democrats are sticklers for fitness when they elect the candidates, and the party guarantee is behind each candidate of the party. Self-seeking is an out-and-out disqualification for office with our party, and it passes by self-seekers and picks out its candidates with a single eye to their FITNESS and their MORAL WORTH and ECONOMIC UNDERSTANDING. Before they

DAVIDSON

Beginning Monday THREE NIGHTS WED. MAT.

Miss Maxine Elliott

IN THE CLYDE FITCH COMEDY

"Her Great Match"

Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00

Next Thursday THREE NIGHTS MAT. SAT.

WILTON LACKAYE

in his Version of Hugo's "Les Miserables"

"The Law and The Man"

Prices, 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50.

THE ELMENDORE LECTURES

THURSDAY AFTERNOON AT 4

Subject: "NORTHERN ITALY"

Oct. 30th "SOUTHERN ITALY"

Single Lecture Tickets Now on Sale.

CRYSTAL

DAILY AT 2:30 7:45 and 9:30

Week of October 22nd

E. Fredrich Hawley in

THE BANDIT

CRYSTALGRAPH

Admission 10c Reserved Seats 20c

Charles V. Schmidt
FOR SECRETARY OF STATE

WINFIELD R. GAYLORD
FOR GOVERNOR

Joseph Ammann
FOR TREASURER

Richard Elsner
FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL

William Kaufmann
FOR LIUTENANT GOVERNOR

Herman W. Bistorius
FOR INSURANCE COMMISSIONER

State Candidates of the Social- Democratic Party

WE ACCUSE!!

WE ACCUSE!!!

WE MAKE THIS CHARGE: That the present Republican county administration is rotten to the core, in the matter of FEE GRAFTING. We charge that some of the county officers who are now being pushed for re-election by the Republican party OUGHT TO BE DOING TIME!

WE CHARGE that thousands of dollars have been going into private pockets in such offices as that of the County Clerk, Sheriff, Coroner, and others that ought to be in the public treasury.

WE CHARGE that these things have been notorious and that they are made possible by the fact that the majority of the Republicans and Democrats in the County Board are crooks at heart and have winked at these systematic robberies in return for "favors" that the various county officers are able to dispense. You tickle me and I'll tickle you!

WE CHARGE that the Sheriff's office has been hiding its fee grafts behind blind monthly reports to the County Board. The law provides for reports so that the people can see what their servants are doing with the money that passes through their hands.

WE CHARGE that there has been irregularity in the office of Register of Deeds whereby the general public have had to pay big fees because they have no stand-in with the Register, whilst certain firms and influential men have been allowed to pay fees less than the statutes provide because they HAVE a stand in.

WE CHARGE that the Republican platform in demanding that the law be changed with regard to fees in the Clerk of Courts' office is hypocritical and a studied attempt to put the wool over the voters' eyes so they will not know of the BIG GRAFTS of the PRESENT COUNTY OFFICERS now up for re-election.

WE CHARGE that the Court House, the seat of the county government, reeks with corruption still, IN SPITE OF GRAND JURIES, and we urge the voters to CLEAN OUT THE ENTIRE ROTTEN GANG ON ELECTION DAY!

Its About Time for the People of Milwaukee to Sit Up and Take Notice!

Take the present county election. For instance, take the office of register of deeds. The Republicans have nominated a man flagrantly unfit for the trust, who has allowed the priceless records in his keeping to be badly damaged by incompetent copying. A partial report on the damage done to the records under his and previous administrations is now under investigation by the county board, but is being craftily delayed until after election. The Democrats have put up for this important trust a street railway alderman who has always trained with the gang and who can scarcely write his own name. On the other hand, the Social-Democrats have nominated a fairly young man, Handley, who is just in the prime of life, who was a high school graduate, and a man who is familiar with bookkeeping, and who has occupied leading positions of trust and responsibility in the big organization of machinists in this city for years. Outside of the question of principles, he is the only man who has been nominated, WHO IS FIT FOR THE POSITION. Take the position of coroner. Our party always nominates physicians for this important office. Only a physician is qualified for such service. The Republican incumbent is an old roustabout politician, not a physician, and with a shady record on the fee question. The coroner must ascertain the cause of death of the people who die violently. Many a crime is covered up by the ignorance of such men as the Republican candidate. And it costs the county more money besides, for he must call in physicians to do the work that he should be competent to do.

Ye gods! Mr. Beggs says he is in favor of "sane" regulation. Then what the people want must be insane, for it does not at all agree with the things Beggs says are all right. He would want a "regulation" that would not demand that he put on enough cars to serve the demand of the public, and enough cars to fill out a decent schedule instead of rushing a few cars round the circuit, as he does now, and forcing them to make up so much time that neither pedestrians or teams are safe before their headlong rush.

And even Ald. Walter voted against the bed house keeper, Max Jahnke, whom he had given a good character at a previous notorious meeting of the council, when he claimed to know from personal observation that the bed houses were not bed houses—although one of the lawyers for the dive keepers had admitted the fact in committee. It must have been almost as bitter a dose for him as it was for Chief Janssen to have to turn down one of the pets he had asked the council to take off of its blacklist.

One never knows one minute who is to be mayor of Milwaukee the next! Here's Hooker gone and left the office, and the empty title personified is looking for a new man to take Hooker's place.

Whatever you do don't miss that Socialist Maennerchor concert. They'll expect you!

Twice Daily	STAR	2:30 8:15
Prices	Commencing Sunday Matinee	Ladies Day Fri. Mat. and Night
10c
20c
30c
50c
	Tiger Lillies and Joe Gans
	Next: The Nightingales

ALHAMBRA

Week commencing matinee Sunday. First matinee - Monday, Tuesday and Saturday.

DAVID PROCTOR and Company in the Universal Comedy Success

A MESSAGE FROM MARS

A PLAY EVERY SOCIALIST SHOULD SEE

Every lady purchasing an Orchestra seat for either Tuesday or Thursday Matinee of this play will receive a beautiful present of an imported China Creamer and Sugar Bowl.

30th ANNIVERSARY FESTIVAL

GIVEN BY THE

SOCIALIST MAENNERCHOR

OF MILWAUKEE

Saturday, October 20th, 1906

LIEDERTAFEL HALL
714 and Prairie Streets

Tickets 15c, at the Door 25c Commencing at 8 P. M. Sharp